Mama H.

Thank You very much for all the love and happiness you gave me in my 8th year.
I'll have memories of your class forever. I ~~can't~~ thank you enough for all the little and big favors you given me this year. But most of all thank you for being so patient with me. I know there were alot of times you could have strangled me, thanks for not!
I'll always love you, and can I please come back and see ya next year?
Love Ya, and God Bless Ya.

P.S.
Got your key.

"Little" Joe
LeFlore

Mama H.

I'm really gonna graduate!
there have been so many times when I really wondered whether I would actually get this far or not.
I know there were times when you worried too.

Thanks for all the thoughtfulness, love and caring that you have given me over the past three years. What would I have done without you to get me out of all the trouble that I so often got myself into? You are a special lady!

I'm gonna miss seeing you every day but I'll be back to visit.

Love Always,

Lucina "Mac"

Mama Baby,
well you think your free
don't you hahaha!
well see. I'll be back every day at 8:00 AM.
To see you. Really though you've been an inspiration to me and I'm glad I've gotten to be close to you I will remember you and I will come and visit you (occasionally)

Love

(Cavanaugh)

Mrs. H (mama)

Well where to begin, you're just really great and I'm glad that I've had the fun and opportunity to work for you if you could call it that. You're a very sweet lady and I can't thank you enough for all the advice and trouble you've gotten me out of. Thank you for making my 30 year so special and meaningful. I'll never forget the times that I've had with you and my friends in 5th hour, or the time we went to Arkansas and looked at all the foliage!
but seriously you are like a mother to me not only because you remind me of my own mother but because of the way you guide me like my own mother. But thank you for all of the love. Don't think your getting rid of me because I'll be back up here all the time to see ya. Love you lots

Joe

P.S. Thanks for the influence on O.S.U.

Volume XVIII

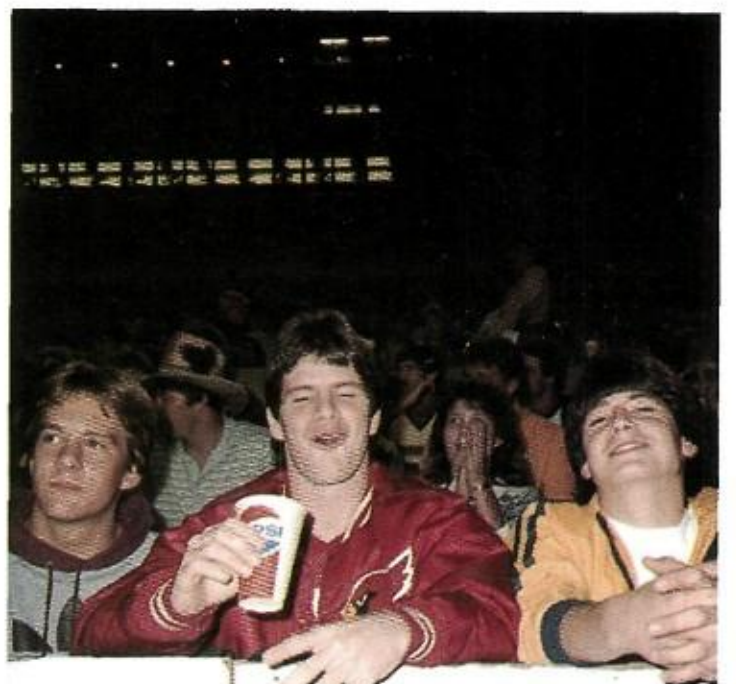

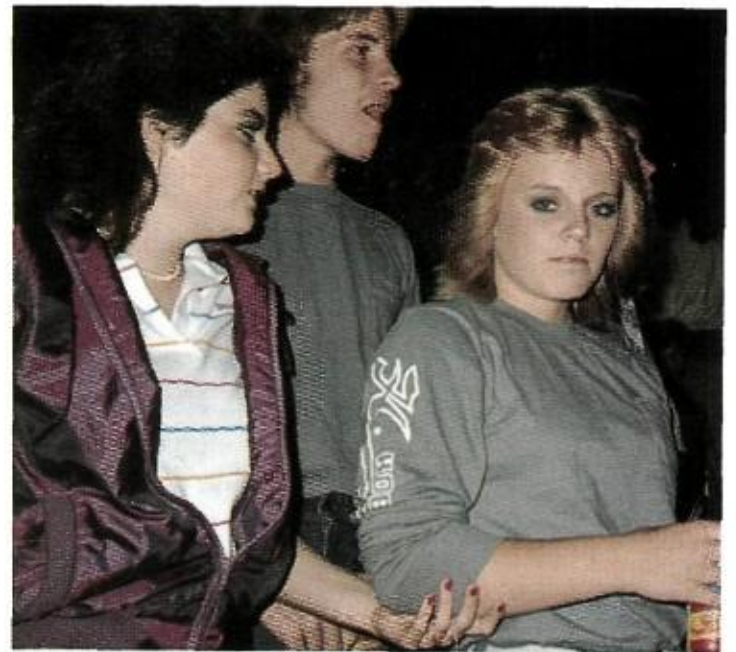

I'll Be Watching You . . . "

British author, George Orwell wrote in 1949 the futuristic and prophetic fictional novel, 1984. He foresaw a time and place where privacy and personal freedom would seriously be diminished. "Big Brother" is the name Orwell gave for the government and it's team of public spies and their video . . .

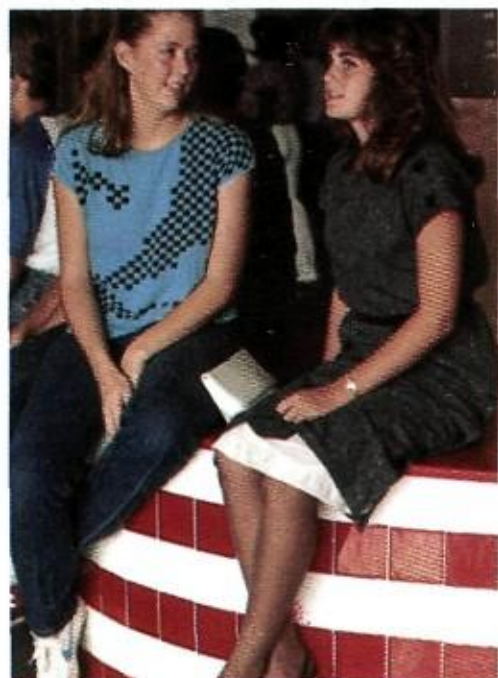

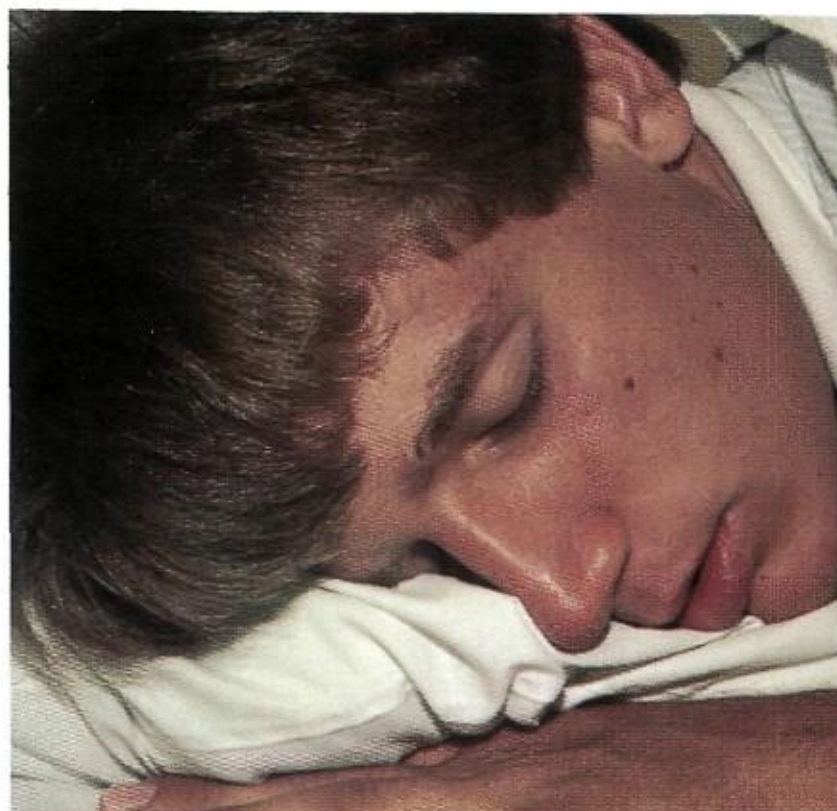

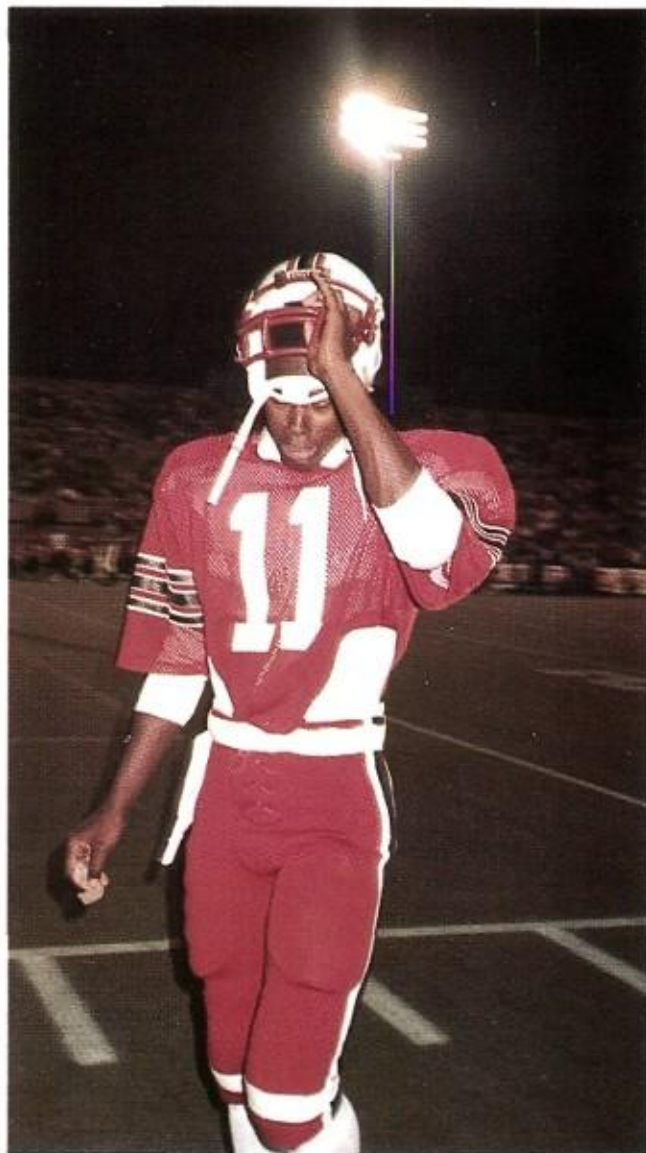

technology for "watching" everyone. However, Orwell may have missed the mark in his predictions. Like a lot of other institutions, Big Brother seems to be out to lunch. Orwell failed to ...

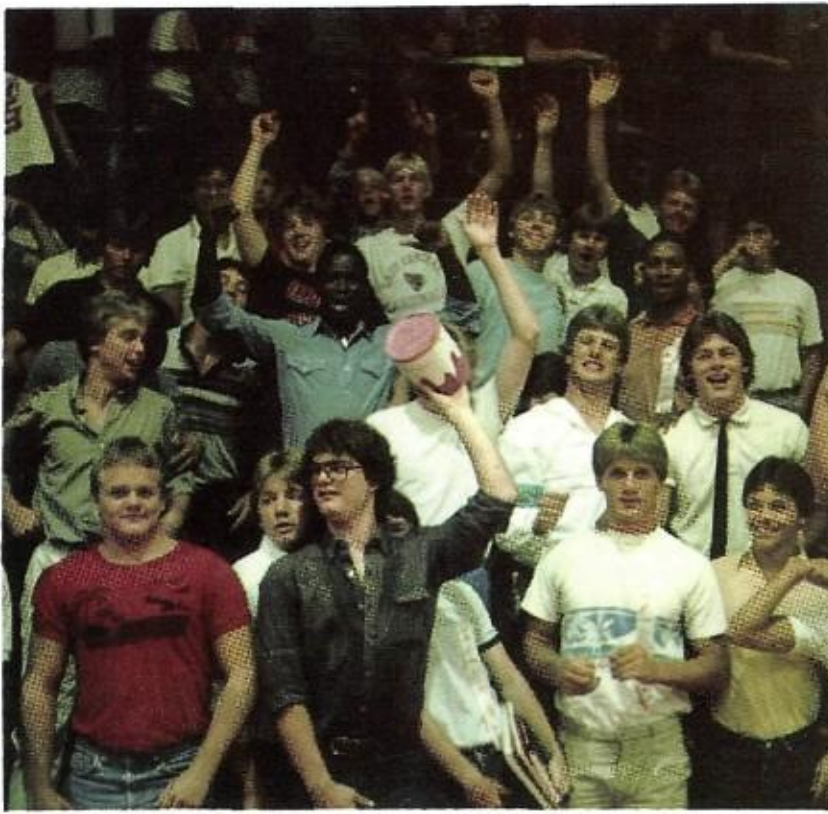

“Every single day ...”

realize just how much Americans and Cardinals, specifically, love their freedom. Their flights are open and free to be watched as one can readily see in the Cardinal 1984. The song, “I’ll be Watching You” by the rock group, The Police, seems to personify this same privacy invading intent ...

However, the Cardinals enjoy being "watched" for they have great pride and purpose in their flights toward achievement and a better life. Let's see what we watched in 1984.

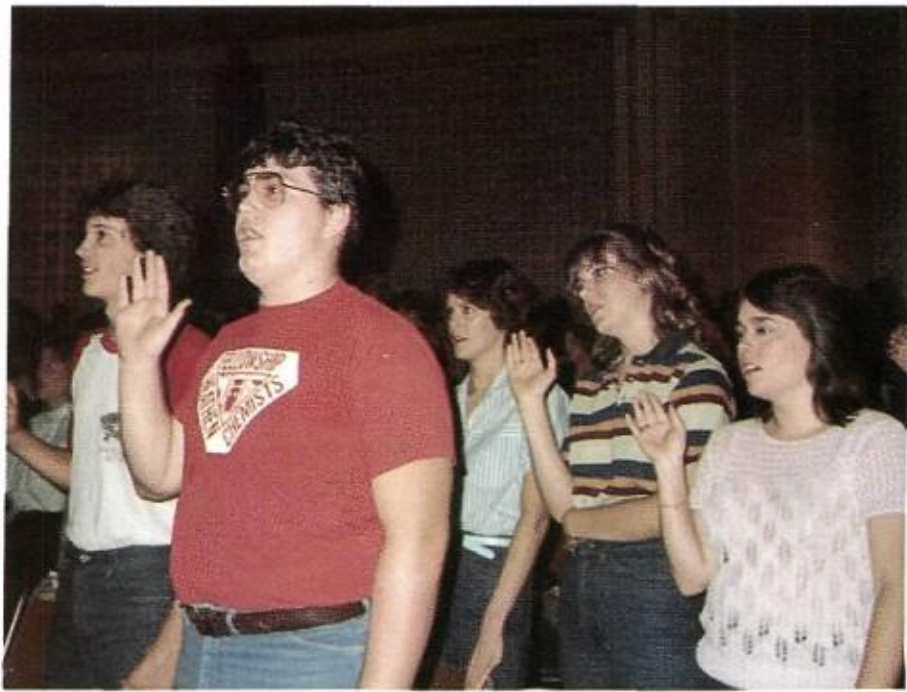

Seniors:

After 12 years of hard work, seniors were finally at the top. Claiming success after graduation was a senior's most important goal. Whether it be college or going straight to work, there would be many things to look forward to in their life. Realizing after graduation many seniors would have to leave some friends behind, they pulled closer than ever. Senior highlights this year included: the prom, thespians, senior tea, and of course graduation which took place on May 23, 1984 at the O.R.U. Mabee Center. Coming towards the end of the year, a senior had a great deal of mixed emotions, some of these being excited, frightened, nervous, and sad. Though they will be leaving E.C., the friends, new and old, the happy times along with sad times will remain in their hearts as wonderful memories ... marking the claims they staked!

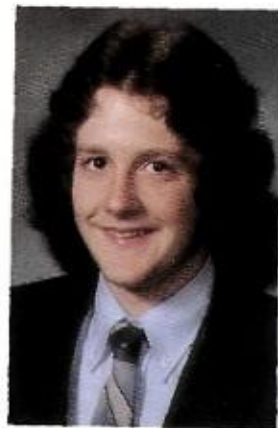

“Every claim you stake . . .”

Hanging out together . . .

Whether it be football games, parties, going to lunch, or other weekend activities, seniors were often caught hanging out together. Wherever there was a group of seniors around, there was bound to be fun.

Making plans for college or work after graduating was a major decision a senior had to make. Whatever their choice may be, they are hoping for success.

Pride shining through . . .

May 23, 1984 was graduation. It left seniors excited, frightened, and sad. Though the word graduation means separation, one will hold special memories of E.C. always. Even with many years ahead, 1984 will live on!

At the pep assemblies, sports events, and in the round, the class of '84 showed their senior pride by letting the underclassmen know that they were seniors.

Seniors say goodbye . . .

Leaving old friends, childhood dreams, and a lot of happy memories behind, a senior has many things to look forward to, such as: new friends, higher goals, and many happy times in their future.

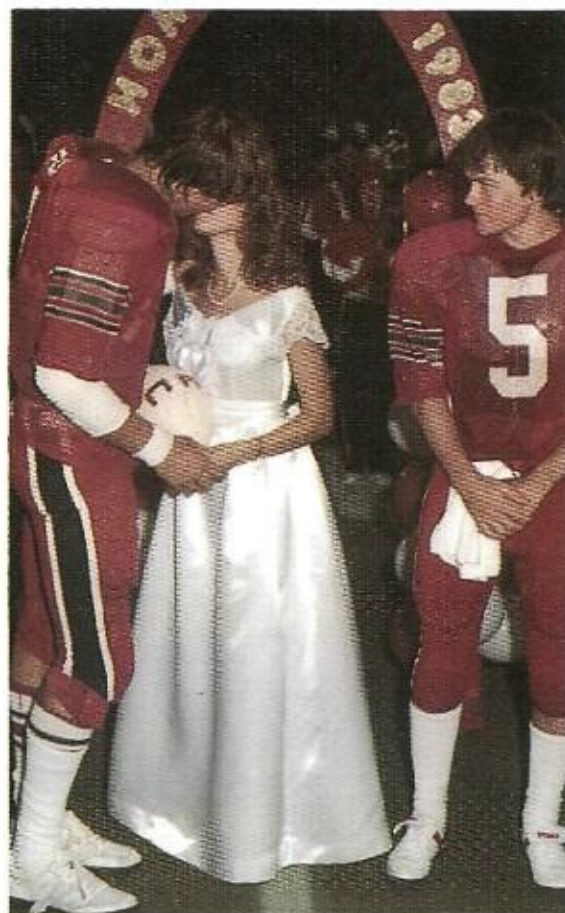

MARK YOUNG

RICK YOUNGER

Every single day ...

Getting up early, homework, rushing to lunch, meeting in the halls after classes, and fighting the crowded stairs, was part of a senior's life every day.

People so seldom say I love you that then it's either too late or love goes. So, when I tell you I love you it doesn't mean I know you'll never go. Only that I wish you didn't have to.

Eyes are often on those who strive for high goals, but only a few make it to the highest "step" - Cardinal royalty. These are students to watch. They have what it takes to step to the top. Mr. and Miss East Central are chosen by the student body. Seniors chose Sr. Who's Who. Juniors chose Jr. Who's Who. Cardinals-of-the-Month must meet certain requirements to be placed on the voting ballots. They must show leadership, make good grades, and have exemplary discipline. They are voted on by juniors and seniors but only seniors are eligible. The Instrumental Music Sweetheart is selected by all instrumental students. Hall of Fame members are chosen by faculty and staff. These all are definitely outstanding students with the ambition in mind to step higher. "Watch" out for these people who have been acknowledged by the students and the faculty.

“Every step you take . . . ”

Juniors:

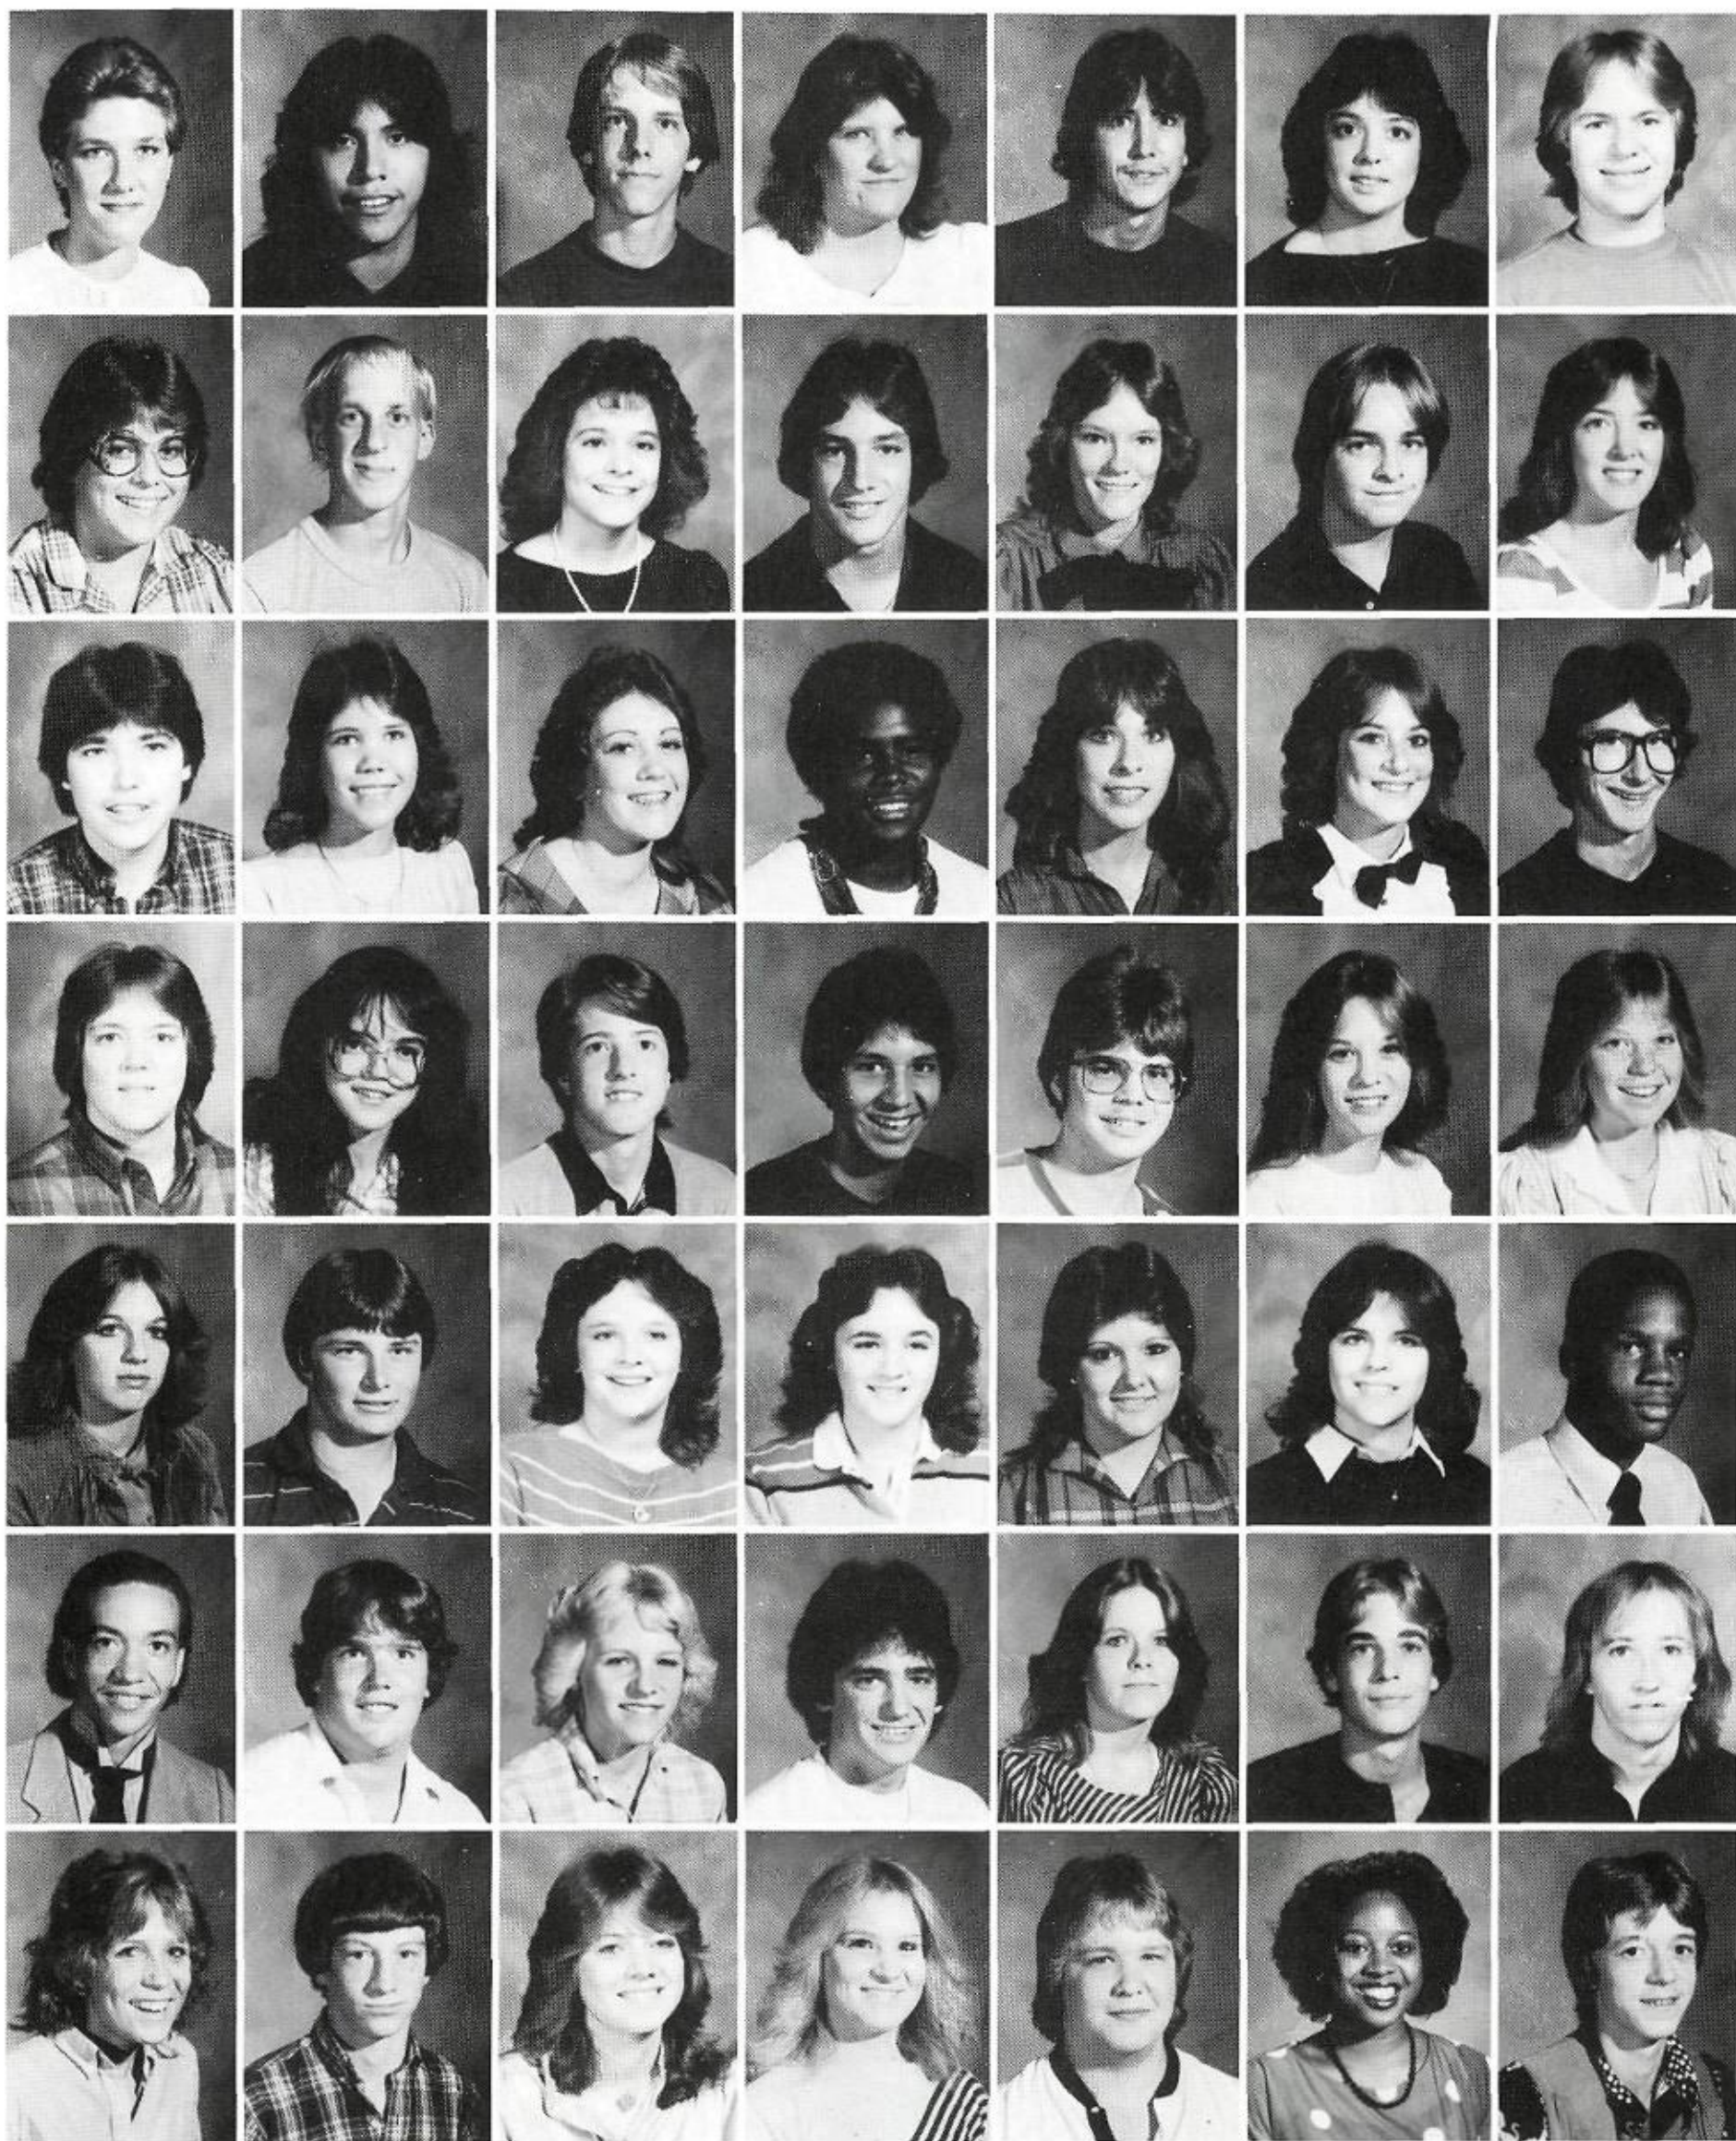

Juniors could finally see the light at the end of the tunnel with graduation just one more year away. Although they were not quite ready to "rule", they were on their way, and were "watching" seniors with "every breath they took." Juniors had two new classes to "watch" them. (Freshmen, Sophomores) This gave them extra added responsibility. Juniors this year breathlessly built their funds, from selling Memo boards and working concession stands at the basketball games. The Junior Board this year consisted of Maria Toney, president; Jessica Veliz, vice-president; Dana Fleming, secretary; and Mary Ann Thompson, treasurer. Mrs. Pat Summers was the junior class sponsor. They were all full of new and exciting ideas and they all took on very big responsibilities this year. Juniors "breathlessly" worked together and the year was a success.

Jr. Enthusiasm

Entering school in early fall, juniors found many changes awaiting them. Administrators had spent summer months "recharging" their thinking, making adjustments for the good of the large crop of students. Juniors found the changes some what different, but not at all hard to deal with.

Enthusiasm is the key to success and the juniors this year had plenty of that. Constantly on the go attending football and basketball games as well as other school activities, juniors this year can honestly say they made their year a great success.

Making it!

High school years are the very best years of our lives. We make lasting friendships as well as lasting memories. Being a junior means you're almost there, striving towards goals, gaining maturity, and developing responsibilities. Being a junior is just a breathless experience towards graduation.

Juniors saw that the class of '85 would soon find '84 over and would then take their turn as seniors. It was hard to believe that juniors had only one more year to roam the halls and longingly wait for "their" graduation day.

Organizations:

This year club activities were on the rise. Whether attending meetings, selling T-shirts, or beginning promotions for a fund raiser, all of the Cardinal clubs gave someone a place where they could belong. From the beginning of the year, all the club sponsors and their presidents called upon their club members to help the club be more spirited and more distinctive than the other clubs here at East Central. Pep Club was the first to show their spirit. When East Central students arrived the first day of school, they were welcomed by the E.C.O.P., one of the most original shirt ideas of the year. DECA club was next to show school spirit and pride, by selling the "KMOD Rocks East Central" t-shirts for the second year. The past year has been a good one for expressing a feeling of belonging, especially for the new freshmen and sophomores.

“You belong to me . . .”

Sophomores:

Although the sophomores are new to East Central they are no longer considered "baby cardinals". The freshmen class has now adopted this name. The sophomores this year had a class under them watching every move they made. As the year went on the sophomores found their place in the school by selling recipe books and spices which were also sold by the other three classes. Some other activities that went over well were the selling of lollipops and the freshman-sophomore class play called "The Warrior's Husband." The sophomores also worked the concession stands at all wrestling matches. All the money that was earned this year will go towards their senior prom. Every move made by the sophomores this year was a move toward maturity as they proved themselves to be true cardinals. We watched every move they made.

Moving . . .

The word sophomores when used by high school students can be a dirty word. But this years class worked hard to change the image sophomore brings to mind. What was the hardest part about being a sophomore? For Randy Wheatley it was, "Putting up with all the teasing and adjusting."

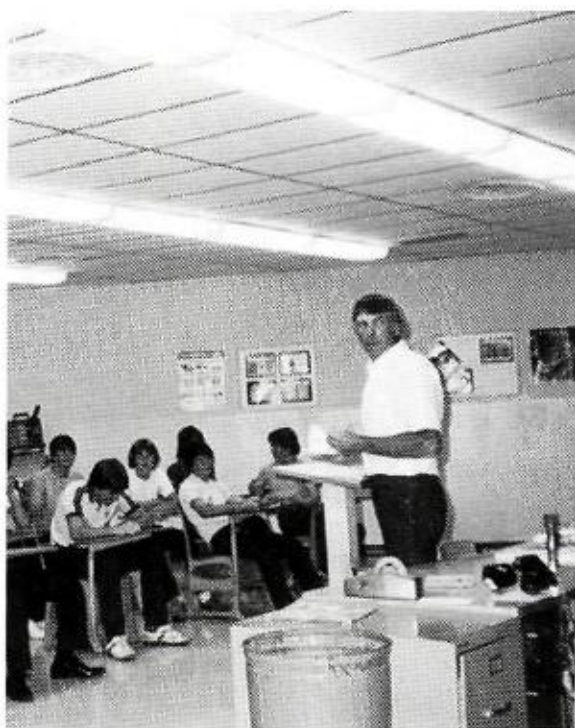

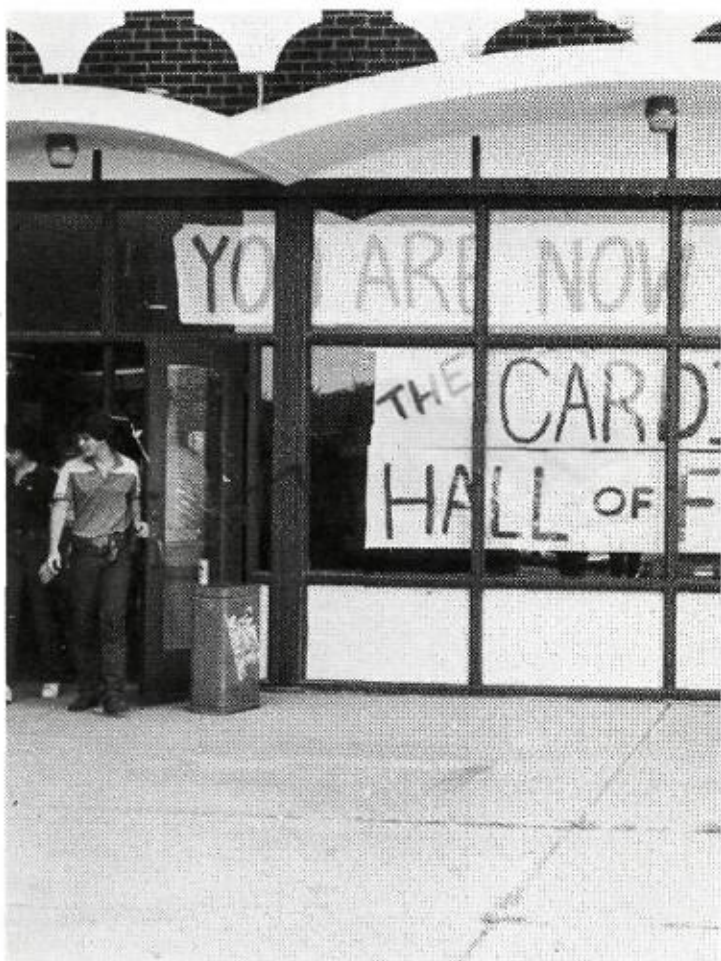

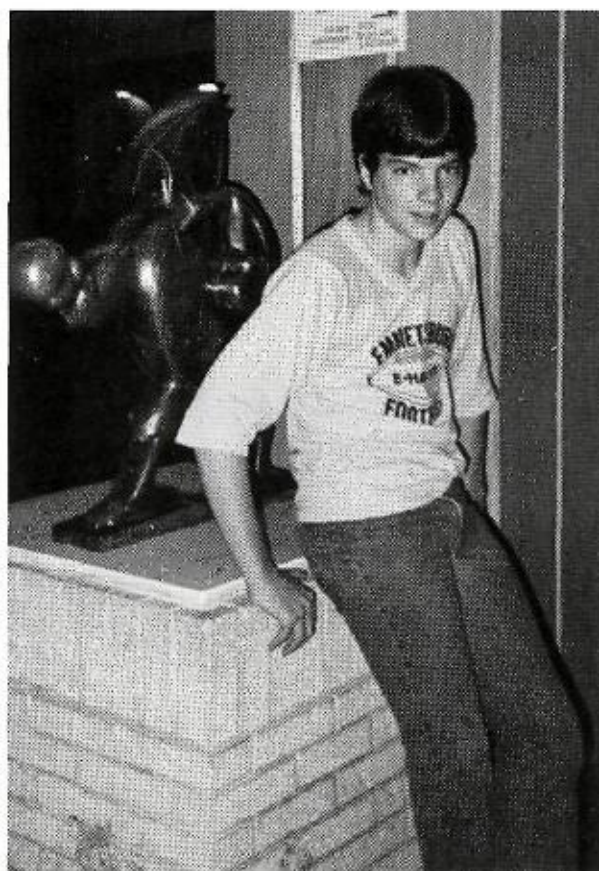

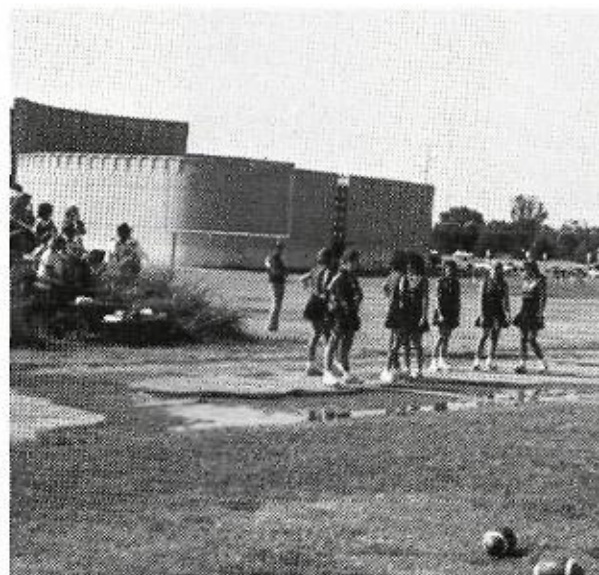

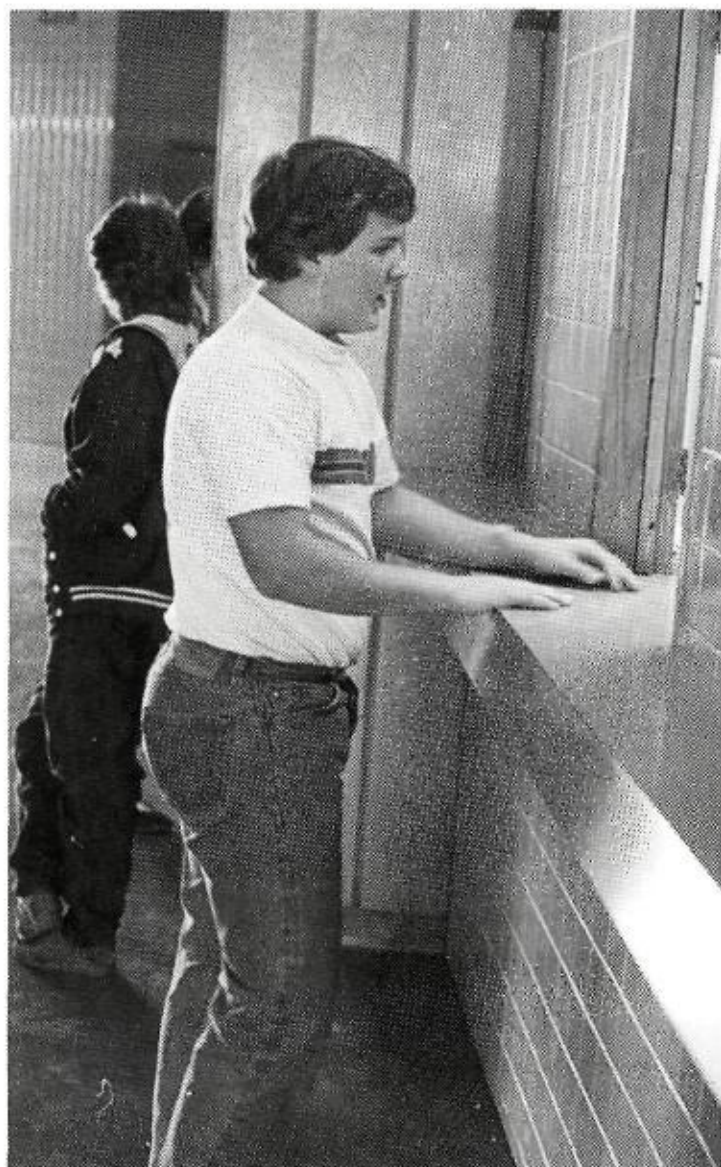

The Sophomore class is always the class to try new things. They had a year full of driver's ed., cookbooks, punk music, coneys, QT, and a lot of change. And every move they made was a step towards maturity.

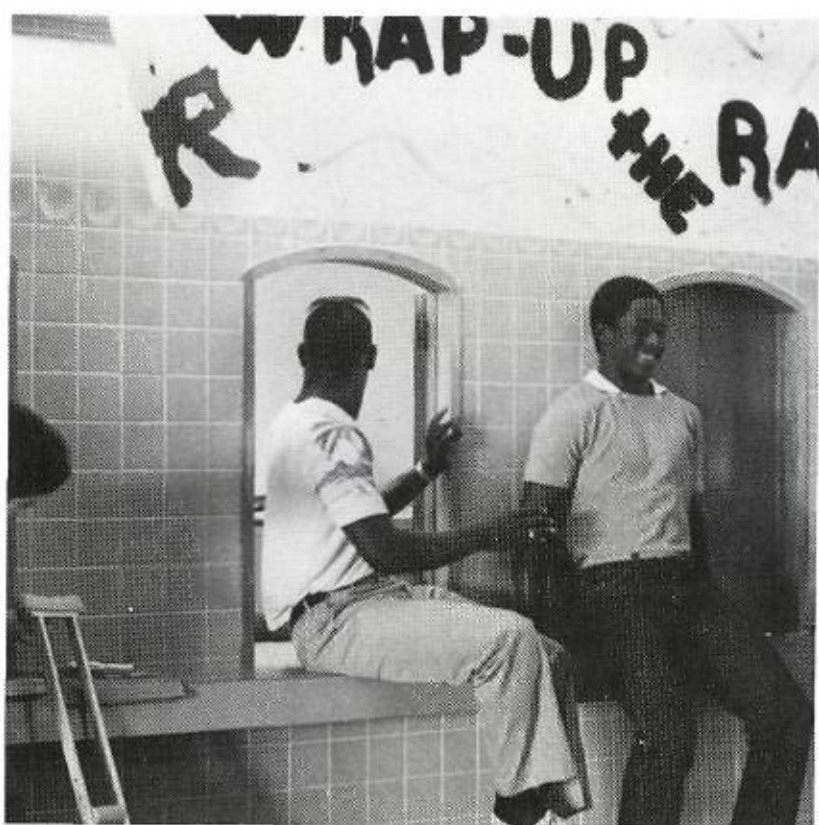

... right along.

Although they've only just begun, already the "1986" sophomore class has made a good start. They started off on the right foot with good class officers. These were: Pres. Eric Celeste; V. Pres. Fonda Gillum; Treasurer Amy Lindquist; Secretary Kerrie Bailey; and Student Council Rep. at large Jeff Dlabach.

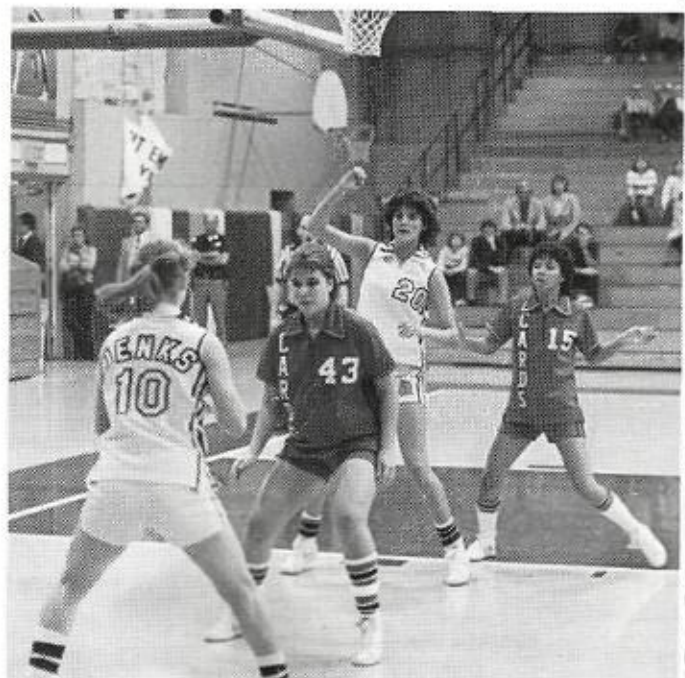

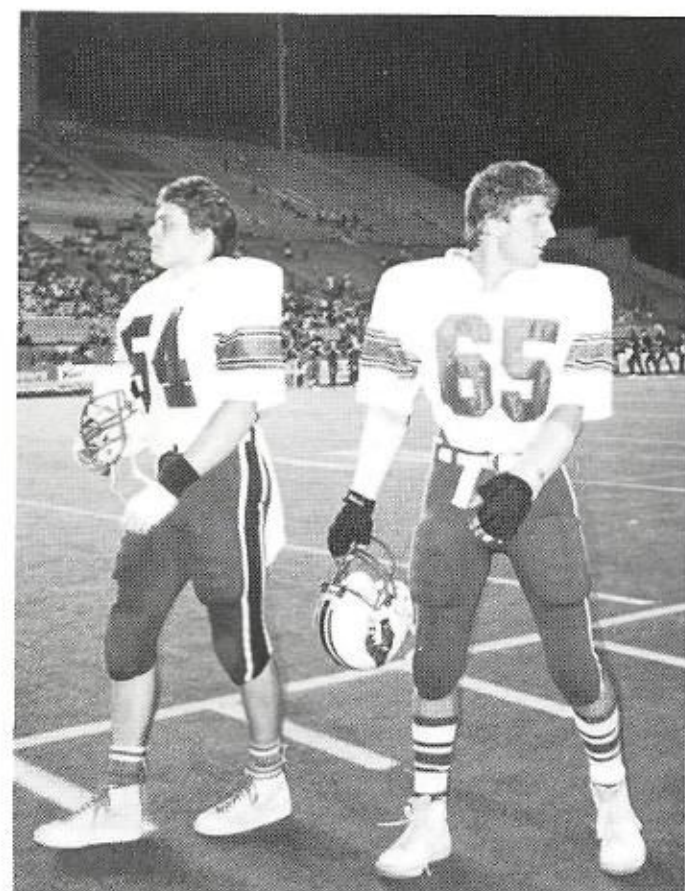

1984 Sophomores moved down the road to maturity this year with every move they made. They learned how to cope with all the pressures of growing up, fitting in, and just being sophomores. "It was a lot of fun", said Fonda Gillum.

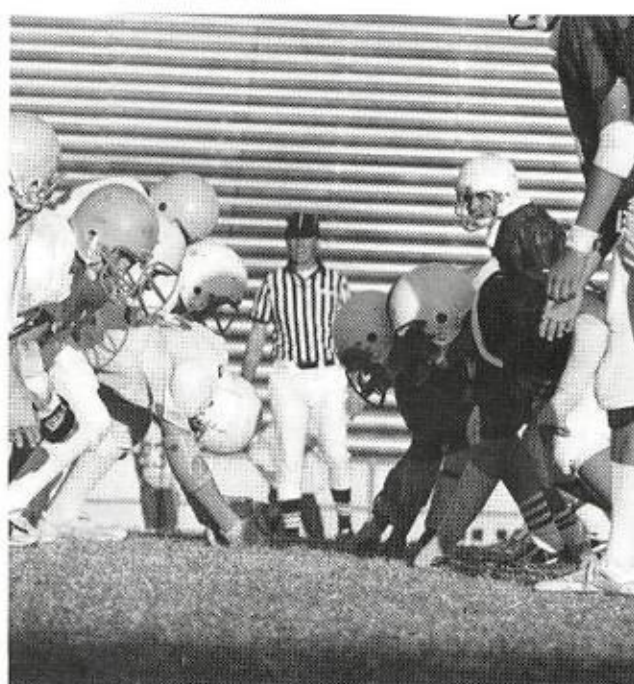

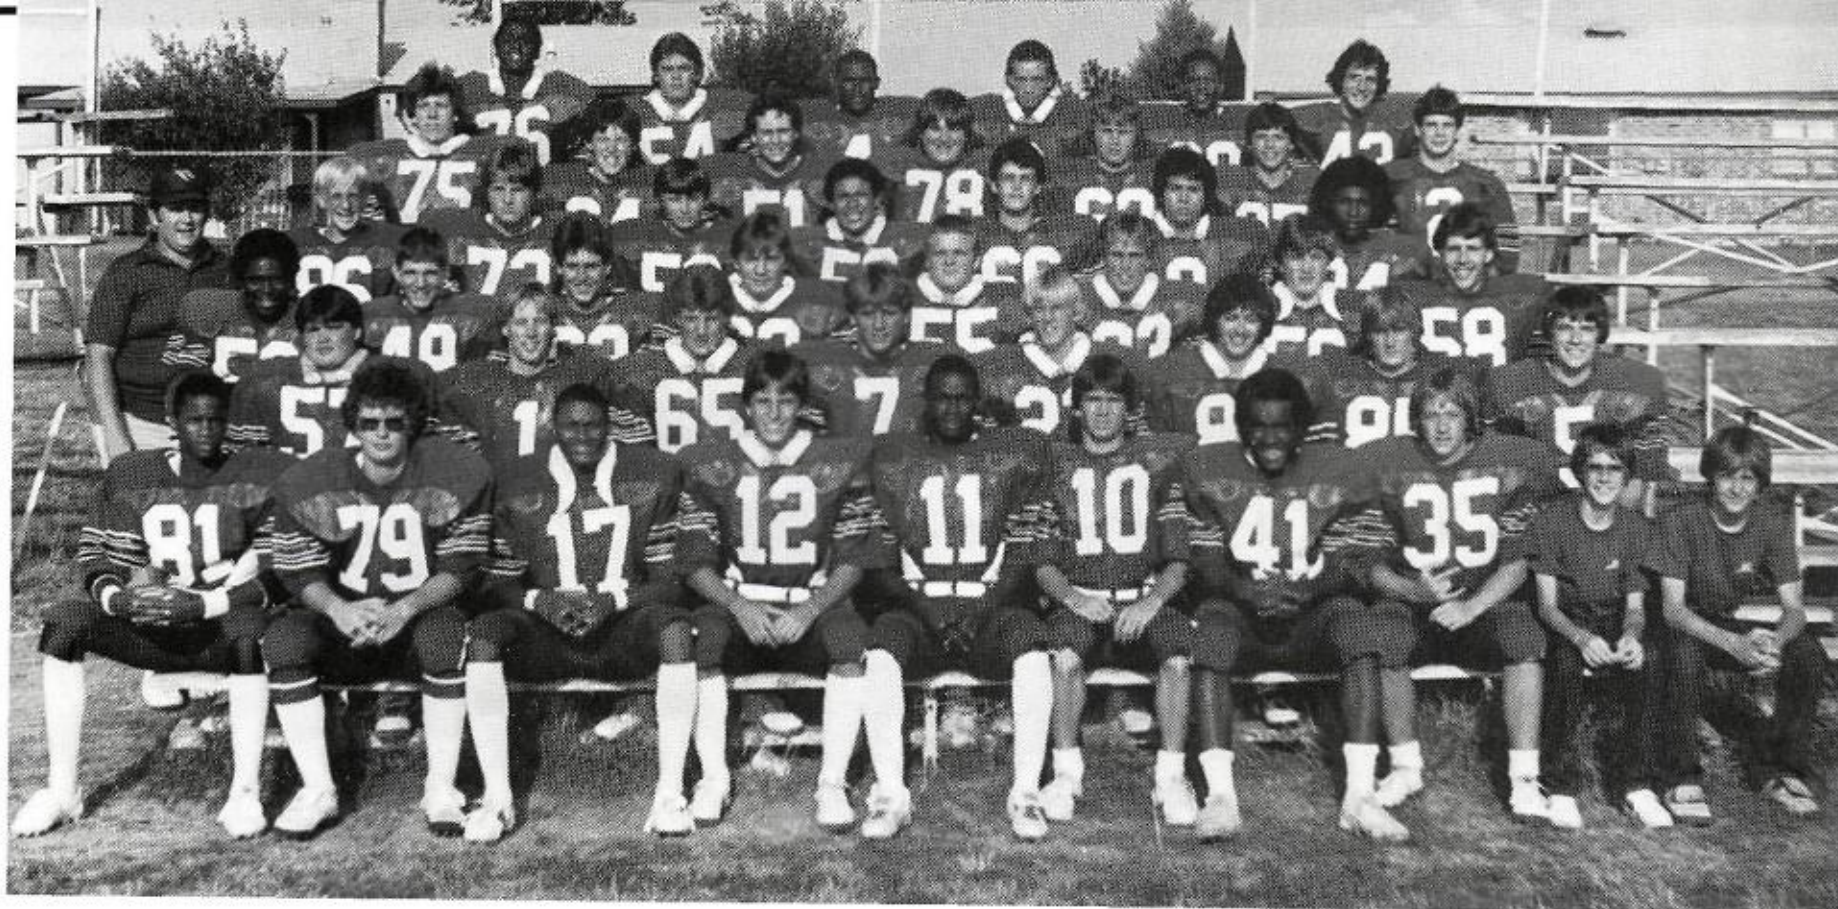

Sports:

No one can stop watching the rugged force of Cardinal Sports. From fans in the stands along with black and white striped referees, people are always watching the Cardinals, with a strong eye. Every play brings "watchers" to the field, court, and mat. From the beginning to the end of the school year, there has been many new improvements to the Cardinal sports program. Cards had equipment in football and a new basketball coach. Two new classes of students in the basic sports program added a new dimension. With every game the Cardinals played, no one could stop watching the supreme excellence of sports at East Central. East Central sports consist of: football, basketball (boys and girls), softball, cross country, gymnastics, wrestling, swimming, diving, baseball, track, tennis, golf, soccer, and volleyball. Try and "watch" all this!

The varsity football team had a stunning 7-3 season this year, which is the best season in the school's history. The players showed true spirit this year with hard work and pure effort through the off-season and blistering two-a-day workouts in August. The team was led by fourteen seniors, who supplied the true strength and power of the Cardinals this year. All this effort paid off giving the Cards a shot at the state championship by making it to the playoffs. The Cards put forth a great effort but were downed in the first round.

The junior varsity team was coached by Mr. Roy Gage and Mr. Leon Luce this year. The team was mostly made up of sophomores with a few juniors for added support. Although the record of the junior varsity was 2-7, they completed the season with a better understanding and feeling about the football spirit. These so called "dummy carriers" worked endlessly to make it to the varsity team. Very poor attendance to the games could have left the players feeling down, but they practiced hard to be ready for the time when they would be "watched."

Freshman Football

This year the Freshman team added a new dimension to football. They were known as the "little ones" on the field by the creek. They practiced hard and worked to the best of their ability. Although their record was 2-6, they showed drive and determination. At the first of the year they were new and had so many different talents. But with superb coaching by Gary Blevins, they came together and played like a team. Look out for these boys in later years. They are quickly moving up to take over the big field and a bigger position in the school.

The softball team this year had a record of 15-10. They completed the season and made it to the regionals. After overcoming the task of the regionals by becoming district champs, they were one of the eight best teams in the state. The team this year was led by two seniors, Michelle Toney and Cheryl Searcy, who took total control and made sure everyone else did their job. Cheryl said, "Coach Stauffer deserves a lot of the credit for the success that we had this year." Congratulations Cardinal girls.

Despite the odds against them, the boys team fared very well this year. The team had only one returning starter, Greg Peters, who had to deal with a leg injury all season. With only three returning lettermen, the team had to practice very hard. The boys practiced three hours a day from September to the middle of March. Under the excellent coaching of Jack Golden and Ray McGill the team improved greatly. Although all twelve players worked hard, it seemed that the seniors worked hardest to do well their last year.

Mr. Raymond McGill coached the boys junior varsity team this year. This team was full of the upcoming talents in later years of basketball at East Central. The games started at 4:45 and even though a few people attended they played with spirit and spunk. The team consisted of nine juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman. Darren Hoover stated, "Practicing everyday was a lot of hard work, but the team had a good attitude all season." The purpose of this team is to help the guys to get experience for later years.

J.V. Basketball

The boys sophomore basketball team played well under the coaching of Mr. Ray McGill this year. They have been working hard on improving their style in preparation for their later high school years. It is not easy to be a Sophomore with a lot of talent. They receive very little recognition for their hours of hard work. They are just waiting and watching the older Cardinals in hopes for their day to come soon. Because they still have growing to do, the boys hardly ever make the varsity team no matter how advanced their skills are.

Sophomore Basketball

Freshmen Basketball

The freshmen boys basketball team this year was coached by Mr. Dick Scott. These players practiced everyday after school scrimmaging hard with the sophomore team, and later by themselves. They brought a new way of looking at the Cardinal basketball association. When Coach Scott could not make it to practice or a game, Coach Ray McGill would be a great fill-in. Coach McGill stated in the beginning of the season that, "The freshmen team looks pretty good." The team consisted of 28 players. The team captain was Tommy Drullinger.

This year the girls varsity basketball team was headed by Coach Harvey McDaniel and defense Coach Roy Gage. The team consisted of four seniors, five juniors, three sophomores, and three freshmen. This year's captain was Tina Neel. She commented, "Coach Gage has done wonders with our defense and the team as a whole has improved a great deal." The girls varsity team practiced fifth hour every day so that they could leave the gym open for the boy's varsity team to practice during sixth hour.

The 1983-1984 East Central Junior Varsity Girls basketball team consists of 7 sophomores and 4 freshmen. This year the team was coached by Roy Gage and they had a very good season. The team practiced hard every day and put forth a lot of effort this year. Freshmen team members Susan Martin and Michelle Burns commented, "Coach Gage was great and he has really been a great help to us; it was a lot of hard work, but it was fun." The goal of this team is to play on the Varsity team, and with the experience they are getting they should make it.

J.V. Basketball

Freshmen Basketball

The ninth grade girls basketball team was coached by Mr. Roy Gage. Starting forward, Michelle Burns, said, "We had a pretty good season this year but next year we are really going to have a good team and work hard! Coach Gage, and Mr. McDaniels have really worked with us and we have improved in a lot of areas but we still have a lot to improve on." The girls did not get a lot of support from fans this year because they were the youngest team. But, "watch out" for these girls, they have three years to become their best.

The wrestling team was coached by Beau Slemaker this year. This was his first year to coach at East Central. The team was led by five seniors, sixteen juniors, sixteen sophomores, and twenty-three freshmen. Coach Slemaker said, "The hardest thing to do in wrestling is to pull weight." David Brown, one of the freshmen and a newcomer in wrestling, commented, "I like it here at East Central - I like the coach. It is great wrestling here. Our team sticks together and we really work hard." These boys have a lot of dedication.

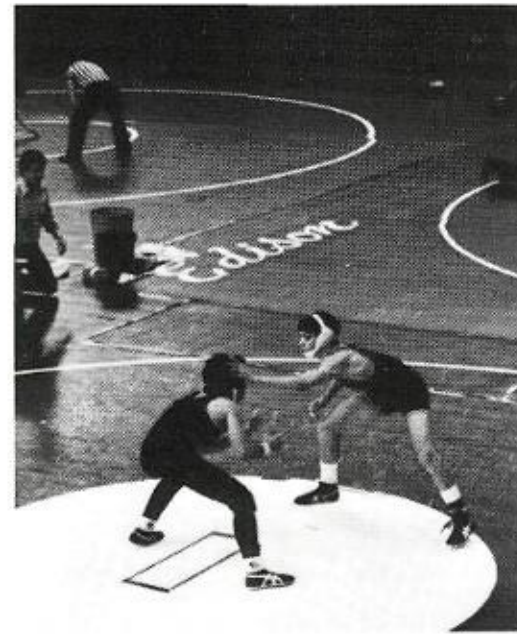

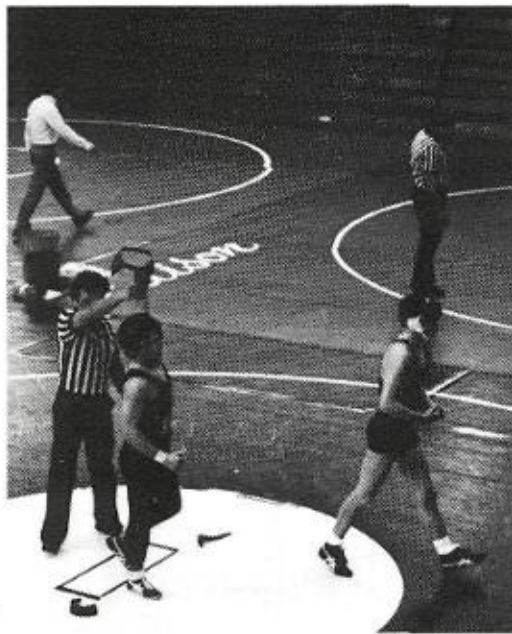

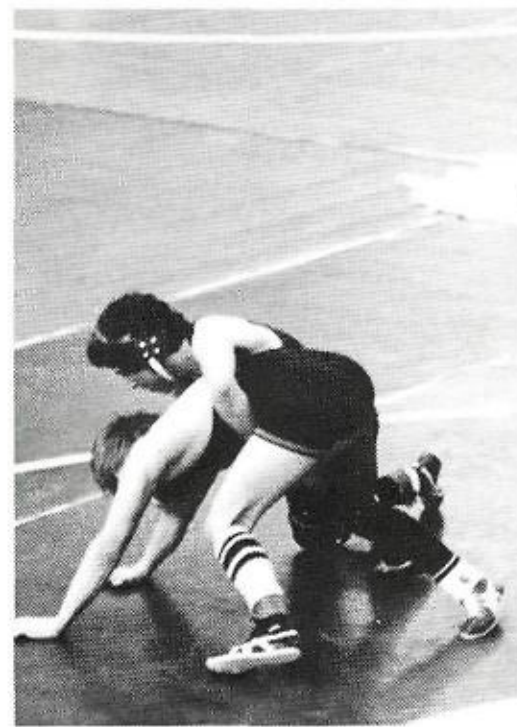

Wrestling

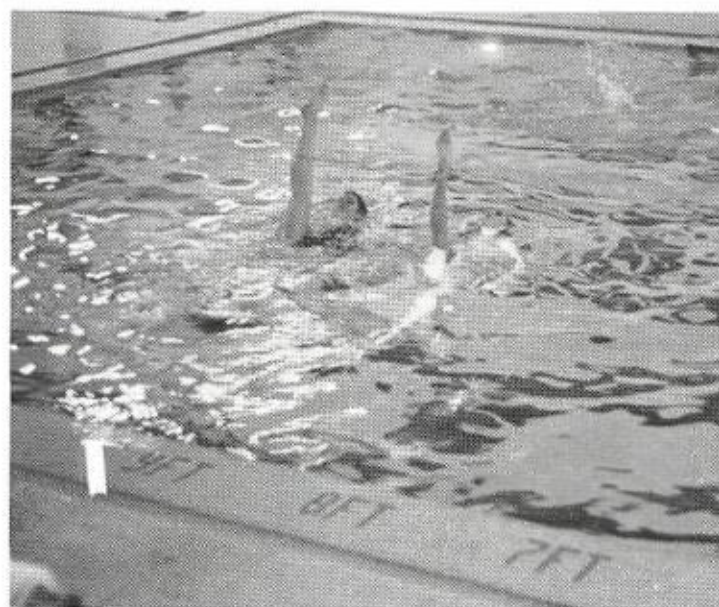

The junior varsity wrestling team made a good start this year. With twenty-three freshmen and sixteen sophomores new to our wrestling team, they had a large number to work with. Beau Slemaker, also new to East Central, coached junior varsity wrestling as well as varsity wrestling. He said, "It is hard to work with all the guys in such a small room, but they work very hard and will never give up." J.V. practices long and hard. They had a year filled with wearing sauna suits, running, dieting, spitting, and working out.

Catalinas

Take a journey in time with the Catalinas. This year the show was centered around the theme "Time Travel." The show was March 14-16. Catalinas practiced hard every day fourth hour, and occasionally on Tuesday nights for as long as six hours. They were coached and sponsored by Mrs. Penny Thomas. The officers were: Dona Royse, activities chairman; Candace Thomas, secretary/treasurer; Nikki Powell, vice president; Kim Davis, president. After spending all year practicing one show, all that can be said is "practice makes perfect."

The swim team was coached this year by Mrs. Penny Thomas. They worked long and hard sixth hour until 3:30 every day. The swimmers did a total of 3000 yards a day, and even more over winter break. Having only three divers, it sometimes became a disadvantage in competition, but they scored so high it proved to be no problem. Who has heard of swimming with spirit? The swim team swam with spirit to the best of their ability every day. It takes a combination of ability, strength, dedication, and excellent coaching to put together this team.

This year's varsity baseball team was coached by Dave Stauffer. The team practiced every day during sixth hour and after school, sometimes as late as five thirty. The first big step for the team was on February eighteenth at O'Brian Park. They played a very long and hard one-hundred inning game against Rogers to raise money for the year. The team was led by seven seniors with eight juniors and four sophomores. Mike Hepola said, "We can have a good year with a lot of work." Daniel Ford said it all with, "Pray for us!"

This 1984 junior varsity baseball team was coached by Mr. Jim Baker. The team is mainly made up of sophomores and freshmen, with a few juniors. The team practiced long and hard every day. They were always seen running around the backstop for conditioning. These talented young men started conditioning about three months before the season even started.

J. V. Baseball

Tennis

East Central's tennis team had a few problems this year. But, they "netted" the odds and "served" up a pretty good season. With twenty-six people and only four courts at the school, practice time was a problem. Coach Luce tried very hard to get in some one-on-one time with every player. The top players of the season were: Mike Blue, Brandon Oslin, Neil Jackson, and Minh Tran. "Although we don't have a country club setting for practice," Coach Luce commented, "we have a bunch of good kids with good attitudes."

Cross Country/ Track

East Central's track and cross country team made a good showing this year. Coach Roy Gage and Coach Larry Ballard worked the runners hard. They practiced every day sixth hour, as well as keeping in shape during their free time. Preparing for the meets was their main goal. They made a good finish in all fifteen meets. Track member Jeff Kreider, a junior, commented, "We've had the best runners this year that we've had in quite a while. We had the best chance that we've had in years of winning the 440 relay."

The East Central golf team faired very well this year. They practiced hard every day at Mohawk Park under the direction of Coach Doug Manning. This year the team had twenty-one people with only one girl, a freshman, Julie Crawshaw. The three head golfers were Robert Crowe, Curt Shoemaker, and Chris Crawshaw, all seniors. Chris commented, "Our team has the best chance it has ever had at going to state competition." With only two tournaments and only five people competing in each tournament, it's hard to be noticed.

Freshmen:

The class of "87" had a lot of bonds to break this year in order to adjust to highschool life. From the very first day up to the last, they worked hard to fit in, and they made it. This was the first year for Freshmen to attend East Central, and even though it seemed as if they were being "watched" by the upperclassmen, they soon realized it was because the elders were just looking out for the baby birds. They had a very close class this year because it was a big step forward for all of them. There were many activities especially planned for them such as soc-hops, pep rallies, and parties. A lot of growing up was done during the year of 1984 and a lot of new and exciting friendships were made. It was a year to learn and change with the usual ups and downs. Being a Freshman wasn't the easiest thing, but it sure was fun.

Bonding together . . .

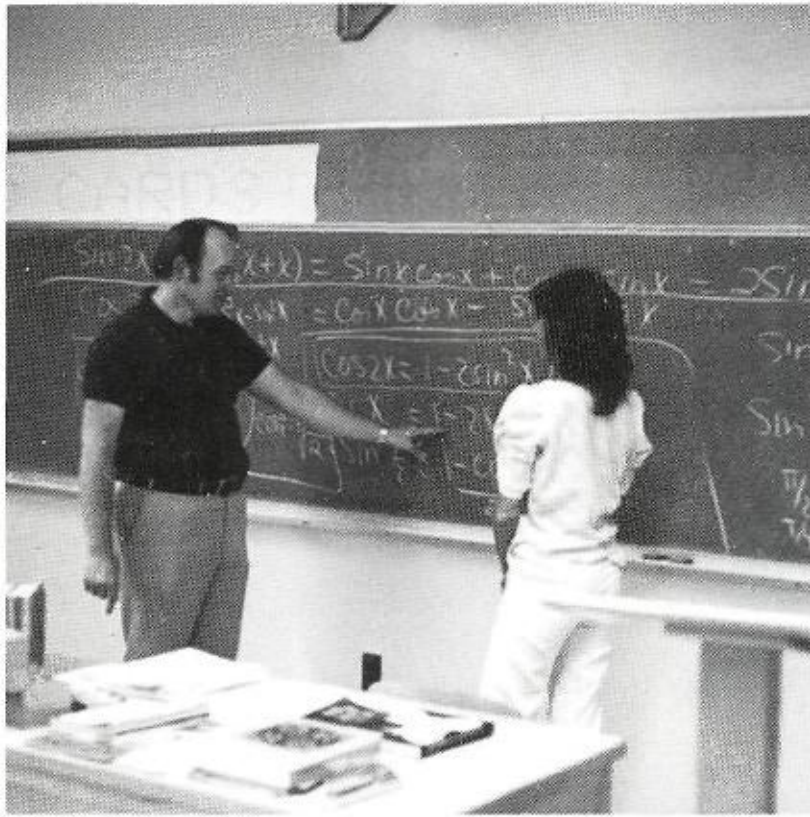

East Central had a new addition when the doors opened on August 29 - freshmen. Being the lower class, freshmen entered with many nervous smiles and much respect for their upperclassmen, which lasted all year.

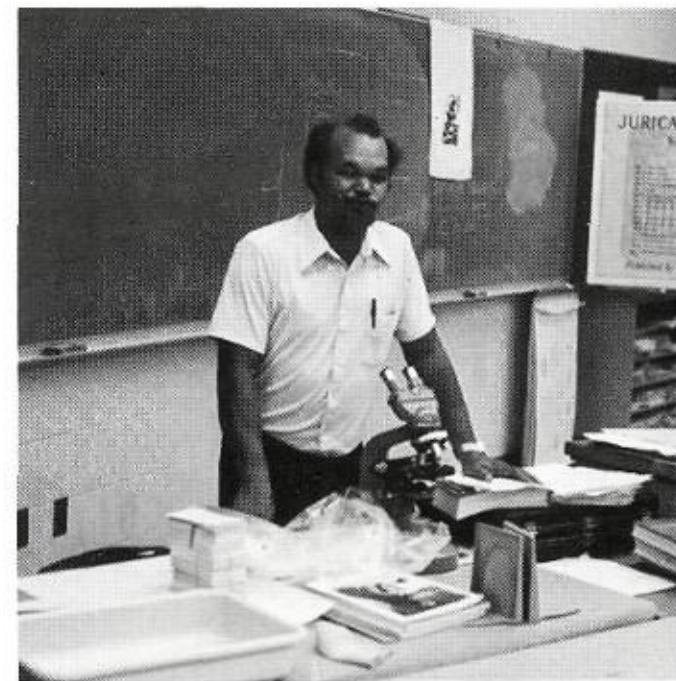

Freshmen were very active and participated in many activities throughout the year. Keeping up with the others, they showed a lot of spirit for the Cardinals. They are looking forward to the year 1987.

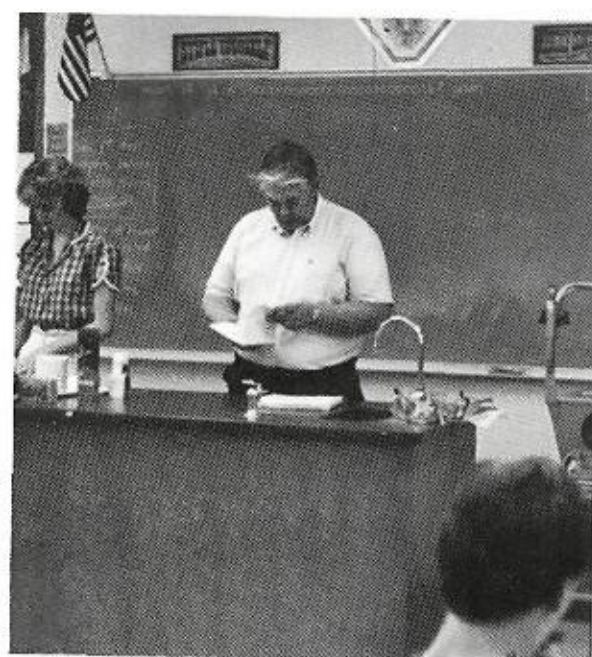

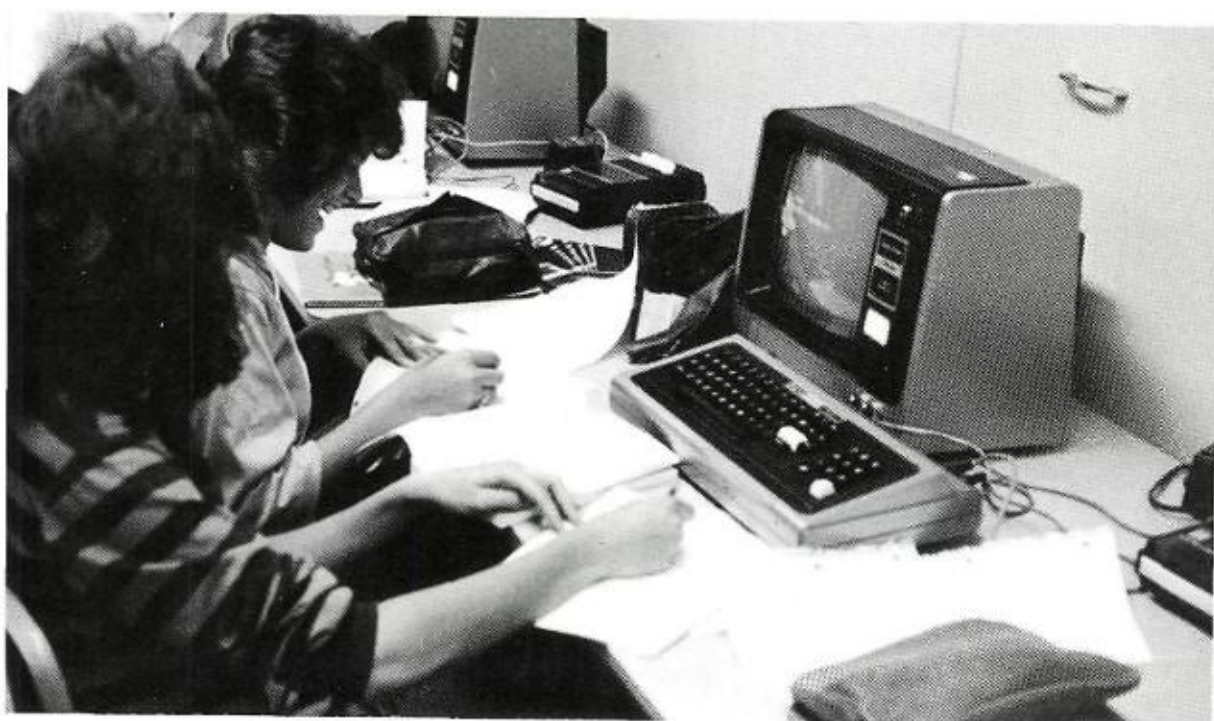

Academics:

Sleepy heads and tired bodies staggering into the bustling halls of East Central certainly made a very perfect sight for the alert few, who had sentenced themselves to be seen and heard while at work studying their academics. Some found themselves trapped by the predestined measures of discipline for crossing the boundaries set forth by big brother, such as: do not admit lists, counseling for the hopeless, and at last resort a dreaded suspension. Every word of instruction which was spoken by our learned staff was heard by "their faithful subjects" in detail, never missing a thought or syllable of instruction. Yet, in confusion you were heard asking? What did you say? You didn't hear? But they heard every word you said! The students of "1984" were a group who were watching, yet they were watched; they listened, and were heard!

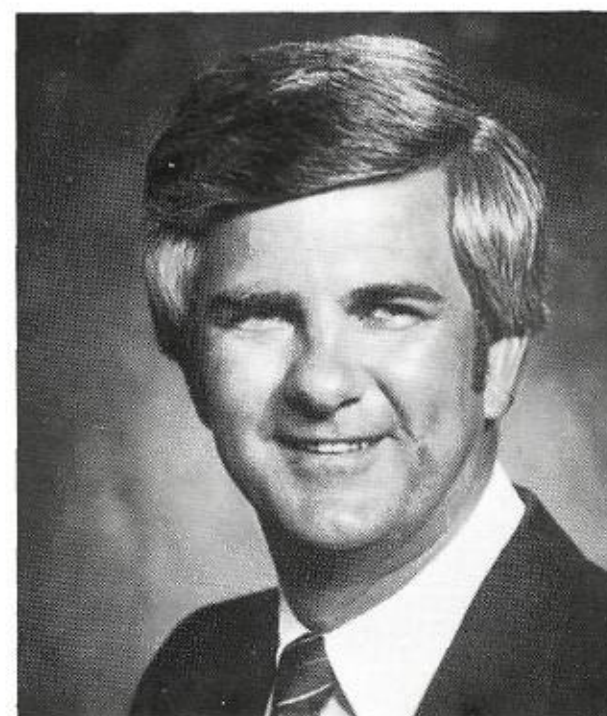

“Every word you say ...”

Board of Education

The Tulsa Public School Board of Education is a governing body comprised of a elected group of Tulsa's concerned citizens. Under the guiding hand and leadership of Superintendent Dr. Larry Zenke, the civic minded board tackled problems that rose up in the following school year. Our economic difficulties with state and federal funding for public education posed severe difficulties for our schools. While working and making decisions through the last year, this group was "watched" by the public eye and took care to do its best.

Dr. James M. Darland

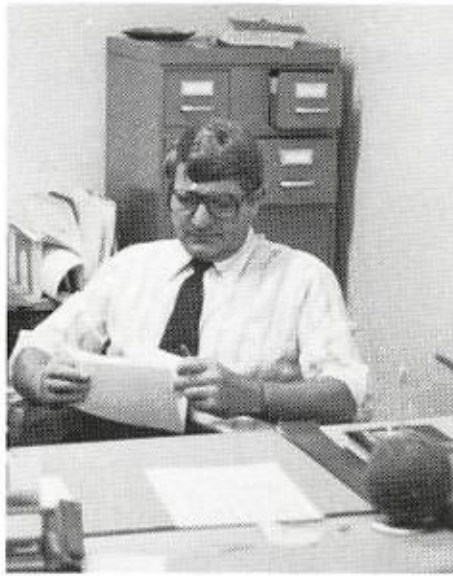

"This is a unique year. The additional class at East Central has marked a year for you that will not be repeated. Yes, you have been watched, for there were some who felt that we would not succeed. Our problems have been anticipated, solutions tried and we have established a good beginning. The leadership of each class will be challenged to develop plans that may serve as guidelines for the classes that follow. Together we find solutions and move on toward a better future for our school, our community, our staff and our students."

Principal

Mr. George Dorsch

Mr. Larry Smith

Behind desks, stacked with papers that contained the day's work, sat Assistant Principals Larry Smith and George Dorsch. Mr. Smith's duty was to take care of school and student activities. He often found himself caught up in the daily routine of withdrawing students, and clearing lockers. Mr. Dorsch was quiet and secluded and often seen with his pipe while reading and overseeing the year's curriculum. He also helped the counselors when they needed it most! Mr. Smith and Mr. Dorsch worked together to bring a successful year.

Assistant Principals

Counselors

Some of the first people you saw when you enrolled at East Central were your E. C. counselors. That counselor became someone you could trust and depend on when you were in need. The counselors of East Central dedicated and committed themselves to their jobs. Helping the education process continue by giving advice became a pleasure in which they could sacrifice their time and experience to approach a situation. They recommended us for honor roll, helped with our scholarship, and straightened out problems between staff and students.

Business Education

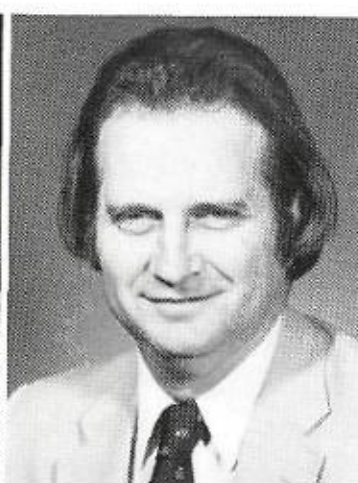

The Business Education department started off the year with six returning teachers. Subjects covered by the teachers were: Business Management, Cooperative Office Education, Accounting I and II, Law Education, Notehand, Office Machines, Shorthand, Recordkeeping, Typing I and II, Office Procedures, and Introduction to Business. The department completed a successful year. Once again Ernestine Pierce headed the department to oversee all Business Education functions in and out of the School. Hats off to a job well done!

English is a necessary subject for the future. It helps us in all fields when it comes to finding a job or choosing a career. If a student can dedicate himself to the class, it can become interesting and very rewarding. These teachers contribute to us by helping us to understand more about how to act, how to write, how to talk, and how to deal with what will come when we graduate and move on. This class will benefit students more than some really realize. English is an extremely important part of our lives. Excelling is rewarding.

Drivers Education

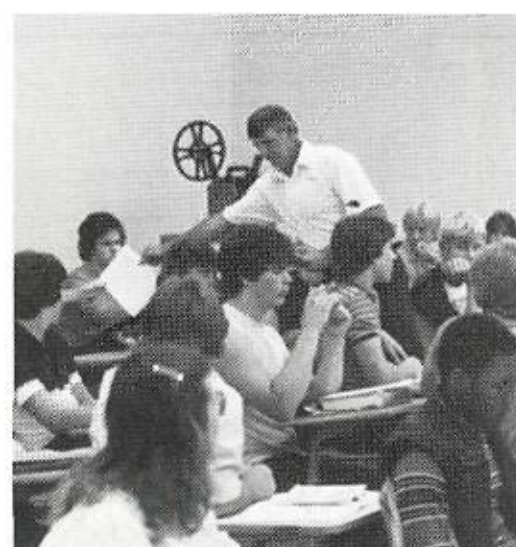

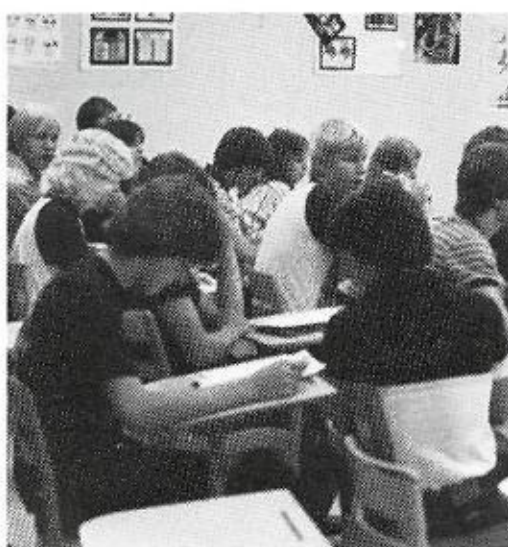

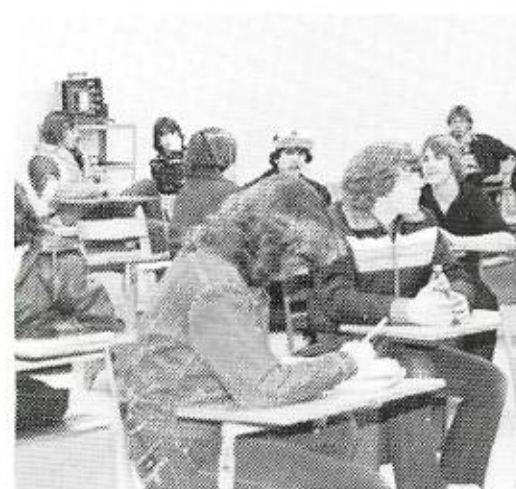

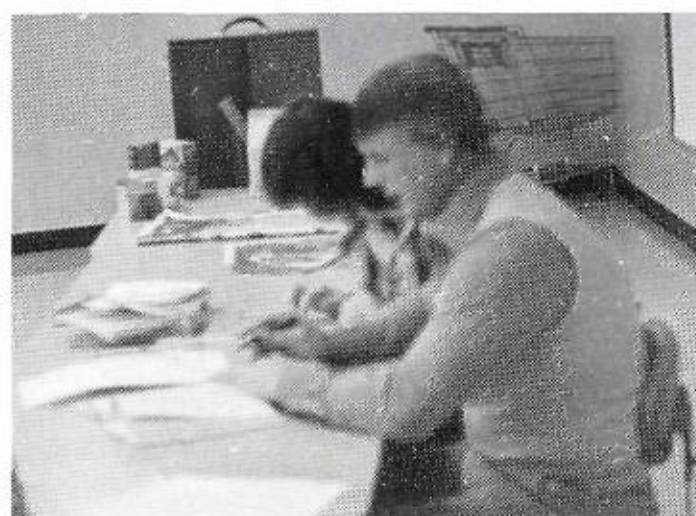

The Drivers Education students consisted mostly of sophomores. Studying driving skills through book work, learning to operate the simulators, and driving the department cars, helped them prepare for their driver's permit, and later their licenses. It also taught students how to prevent accidents, and how to deal with them. Instructed by coaches Jack Kreider and Doug Manning these driver's education students found this particular class a fun and enjoyable way to improve their on road experience.

Art is an elective course for interested students. The art department is directed by Georgiana White and Camille Wean. Decorating the halls with different projects, the art classes contributed to our school's environment. Different classes offered include: design and color, studio art, general art, and arts and craft. Any student interested in a career involving one of these, had the perfect opportunity to study details of their choices. If the student wished to receive more advanced training, Vo-tech offered courses.

The cooperative work study program consists of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders. The tenth graders attend academic classes all day, while the eleventh and twelfth graders attend school half-a-day. Three hours a day are spent either in a vocational training program or receiving on-the-job training. East Central is one of the few high schools in Tulsa to have a Work Study Program. We are very privileged to have this program in our school. There are seven teachers on the Learning Disability staff. Clarence Nails is the Department Head.

Foreign Language

The foreign language classes here at East Central are Spanish, French, German and Greek. All clubs held their annual foreign language week; every day something new and original happened. Through the week the students would wear buttons and T-shirts representing the classes. They also had an open house for the faculty. Foreign language classes are a help in college. Some universities require at least a year of a foreign language to be accepted. There were four instructors teaching foreign language. Mrs. Pharr was Department Head.

Home and Family Life

Home and Family Living helps teach teenagers what to look forward to once they are out on their own, and helps them to find the best choices for the most important decisions they'll face in life. It includes lessons on dating, marriage, adjusting to divorce, living on your own, and budgets. In the spring the Home and Family Life students put on a very realistic mock wedding with all the trimmings and delicacies. There were guests of the bride and groom, tuxedos, formal dresses, a reception and even a wedding cake.

The library has always been a great place for quiet study. Of course, its filled with a large variety of fiction, non-fiction, religious, historical, and science-fiction books. The library has special areas of reference books that come in extremely handy for those research papers. Not only is it a place of study, but it's a place to relax for pleasureable reading. Anyone can find almost any information they need to include in future reports they may be writing. Doshie Chandler is the librarian, and Earleene Rhoades is the library clerk.

Preparing students for careers in such fields as selling and welding was the job of the Vocational Education Department. The Four Vocational Education instructors trained each student in courses such as: Distributive Education, Marketing, Fashion Merchandising, Vocational Welding, Industrial Cooperative Education, and Photography. Students participated in classroom work and also received on the job training after school. Margaret Byrd headed the Vocational and Industrial Education Departments.

Department head, Distributive Education Instructor, Margaret Byrd took care to see that every function of the Industrial Arts and Vocational Education Departments went smoothly.

Math

Math is a necessary subject for the years to come. It helps us all in every kind of field in our job future. If a student knows his figures it can become very interesting and rewarding. These teachers contribute a great deal to our future and our jobs. These math classes will benefit us a great deal more than what we realize. Some of the math classes offered at East Central are Computer Math, Personal Math, Business Math, Geometry, Algebra, Intermediate Algebra, and Vocational Math. Mr. Luther Younger was the Department Head.

Physical education is a class that specifically deals with the body and the way that it operates. It is a fitness class that will help to keep us in shape. These dedicated coaches give us a variety of different sports to participate in during this class period. They help us to learn how each activity is played. During the year, two physical fitness tests are taken to determine ability and duration. After these tests are completed we should know how the class helped. The physical education department was staffed by seven instructors. Eddie Dyer completed another year as department head.

Varsity Athletics

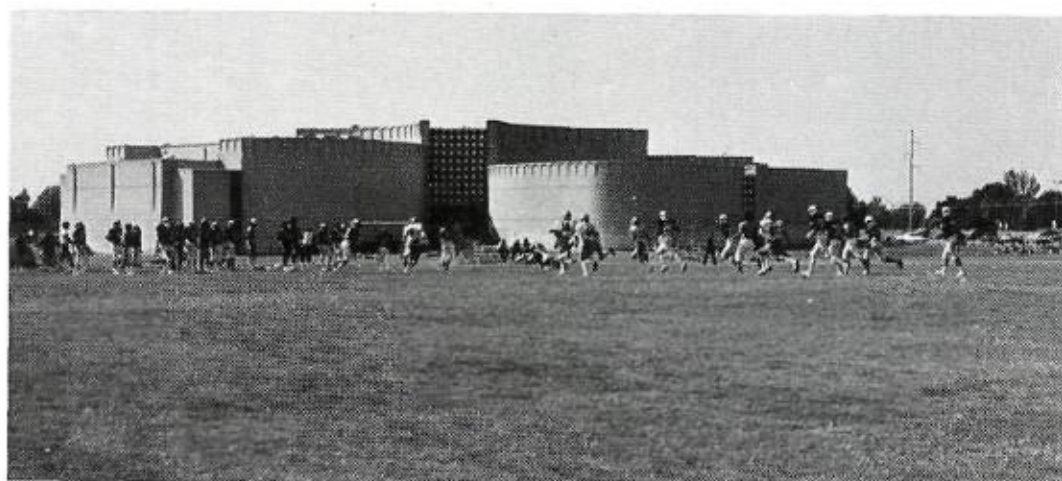

The varsity athletics department devoted their playing time to competition which proved to be a successful ploy. There were seven returning coaches for the '83-'84 school year and season. Each coach taught academics or classes the first four hours of the school day, and then coached sixth hour. Some of the sports offered are: tennis, baseball, basketball, swimming, football training, weightlifting, softball, soccer, wrestling, track, golf, volleyball and cross country. The varsity team attracted students of all sorts from E.C. Coach Eddie Dyer headed the department of physical education and varsity sports.

Science

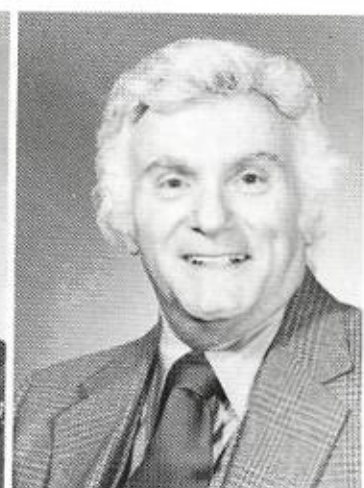

The Science department at East Central holds a large staff of qualified educators. This years department had a total staff number of ten. Three of those eleven, Audie Bradshaw, Leo Engles, and Betty McDaniel, were new to the staff. Heading the department was the Chemistry teacher, Pat Ward. Course offerings this year included Biology, Chemistry, Earthscience, General Science, and Physics, Science is not a required subject to be taken all three years. However, many East Central students take at least one science course per year.

Support Personnel

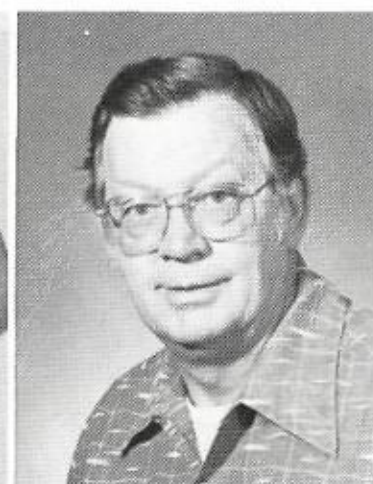

The East Central support staff includes the cafeteria workers and custodians. One of their duties is to prepare and serve the cafeteria food for those students who cannot or choose not to leave the school at lunch. The custodians duty is to pick up and clean the cafeteria and make sure that the building is presentable. A special thanks should go out to these employees for their support and help throughout the year. They are indispensable to a good school, and help make East Central the best of all schools around.

The East Central clerical staff worked hard to keep the school office in order and assisted in keeping the school flowing smoothly. Clerical support staffs at E.C. include the secretaries of the principal and assistant principals, registrar, schedule revisions, attendance, clinic, requisitions, and the bank and bookstore personnel. Without all of these people, East Central would not be able to uphold its tradition of smooth flowing and trouble free processes. New to the staff are Sue Baker, and assistant registrar Polly Farlow.

Mrs. Valdene Sands

For 38 years classroom walls have echoed with the energetic voice of Mrs. Valdene Sands, an instructor who has given a new meaning to the word perseverance. Mrs. Sands was born in a small rural town of Clayton, Oklahoma. She received all of her elementary and secondary education in the local schools until May 1943. Three days later she enrolled at Southeastern State College in Durant, Oklahoma. Mrs. Sands interrupted her college education with just 54 credit hours behind her. War broke out in Europe and her only brother became an instructor for Boeing Air Craft. Feeling the need to get out and see the world, Mrs. Sands went to Seattle, Washington and worked in a factory burring airplane ribbs. During that same year, she was contacted by her school superintendent at Clayton. He posed a question which would affect the rest of her life. She was asked to return as a teacher to her elementary alma mater. Mrs. Sands accepted the job. She taught elementary school through 1945, and she became the Pushmataha County school lunch supervisor. Four years later, someone unexpected appeared in her life. George, a childhood sweetheart, returned to propose to his Valdene. George and Valdene Sands married on June 10, 1947. In 1948 their first child was born and named William Myron I. Valdene began teaching at Battles, a small town outside of Wilburton, Oklahoma. George helped the school's track team win first place in Latimer Court. When Limestone schools heard about George's coaching talents, they hired both of the Sands and gave them an increase of thirty dollars a month. They accepted the offer. While at Limestone, the Sands worked on their degrees at Southeastern State College, until they began teaching science and business at Clayton, the Sand's hometown. Mary Bess was born during the eight years that the Sands taught in Clayton. In 1958, the Sands moved to Tulsa. Valdene was assigned to Central High School, and George to Wilson Jr. High. Immediately thereafter, Valdene was asked to be assistant sponsor of the "Red Feathers". There were seven sponsors who devoted their time, and received no reimbursement. After Mrs. Sands had served as assistant sponsor for two years, she was promoted to head sponsor of the pep club/cheerleading team. In 1964, she became Senior Class Sponsor at Central; she reluctantly accepted it because of the love she felt for Red Feathers. In 1970, Mrs. Sands rooted herself into the foundations of East Central; she requested a transfer to East Central, as Mr. James Payne, principal, had been both George and Valdene's ninth grade science teacher. That same year she became the student council sponsor, and has remained so every year since. "I've tried to make this the best school in Tulsa; which it is," remarked Mrs. Sands. Sands has served as vice president, and secretary of TCTA, and served as representative of Tulsa Teachers Immediate Assistance Club for East Central. The future holds many activities for the youthful Mrs. Sands. She plans on fishing, traveling, and hopes to master the skill of golfing. Square dancing, a lifetime hobby of the Sands will be continued throughout their retired life. Sands plans on working harder for her husband, and wants to be a better mother for her children, children-in-law, grandchildren, and also her puppy, Annie. She believes that this will keep George and her off the streets. "I love East Central and I hope that I have shown it. I just ask that the great staff we have here at East Central continues to encourage the Cardinals to fly number one. I will always remember Cardinal Land with pleasant memories."

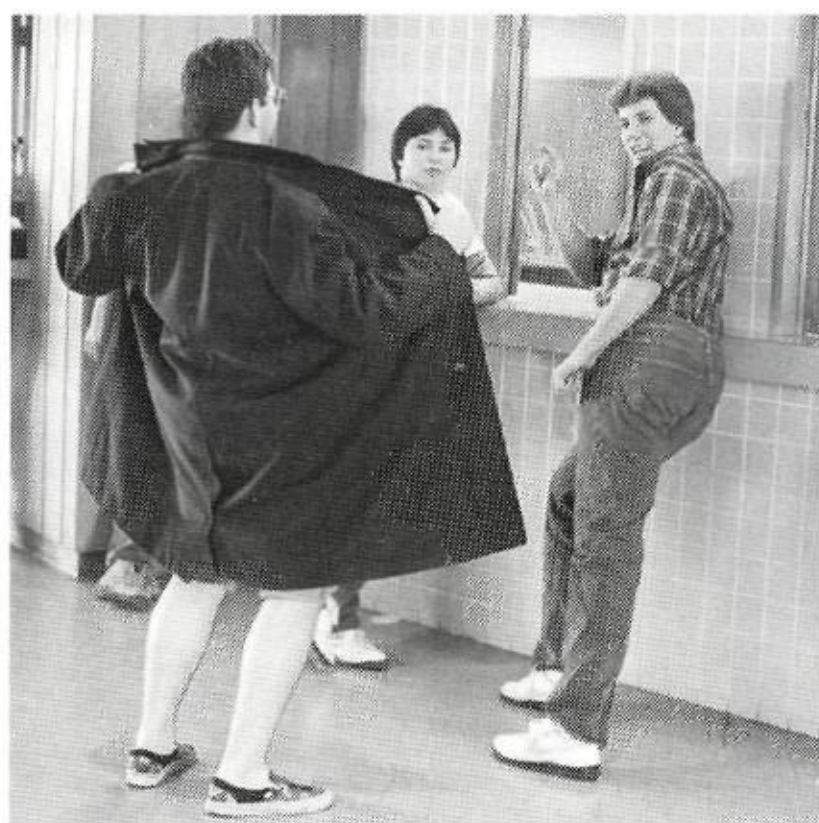

"Yester-year you breezed into East Central High School and since then we have never been the same! You ruled from the 5th floor to the basement with a toss of that red head and that big smile. You feel that the world is not a playground; it is a school room. Life is not a holiday; life is an education. And the eternal lesson for us all to learn is how better we can serve and love. Like all lessons, we learn by ceaseless practice. That is what all those Miss East Central, all those Mr. East Central assemblies, all those homecoming ceremonies, all those ballot counts and all those dances were, practices of love. You have learned your lessons well and passed with great dignity. You leave us to continue our practice. We will strive to be as conscientious in our practice as you have been; we will strive to be as loyal a Cardinal as you have been. To honor us, and to recognize your devotion, we have but one request: Will the real Miss East Central please stand up!!!" — Doshie Chandler.

"Valdene Sands is a personal friend, who has exhibited dedication, concern and caring for the thousands of students she has taught and counseled during her teaching career. She will be greatly missed." — Rodger Lefler.

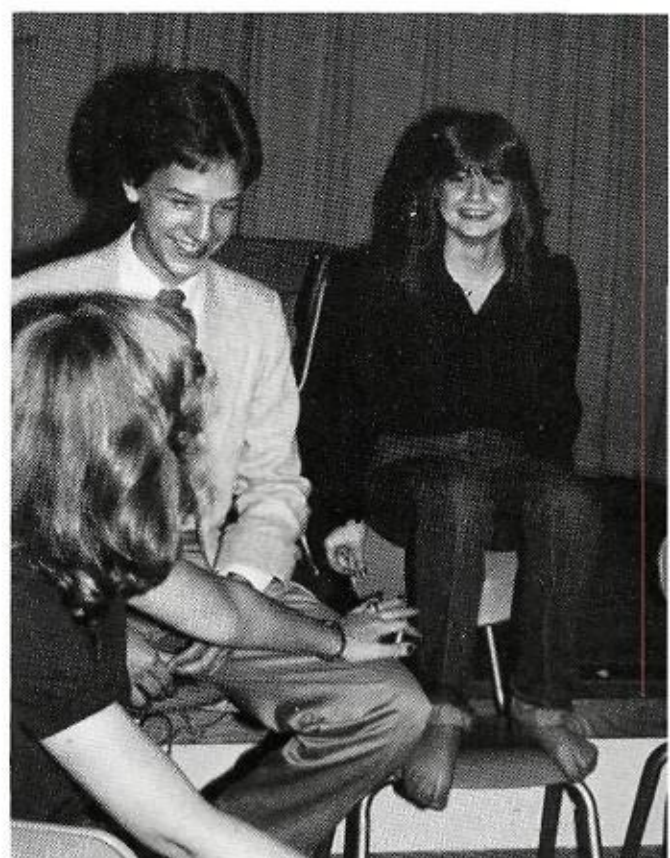

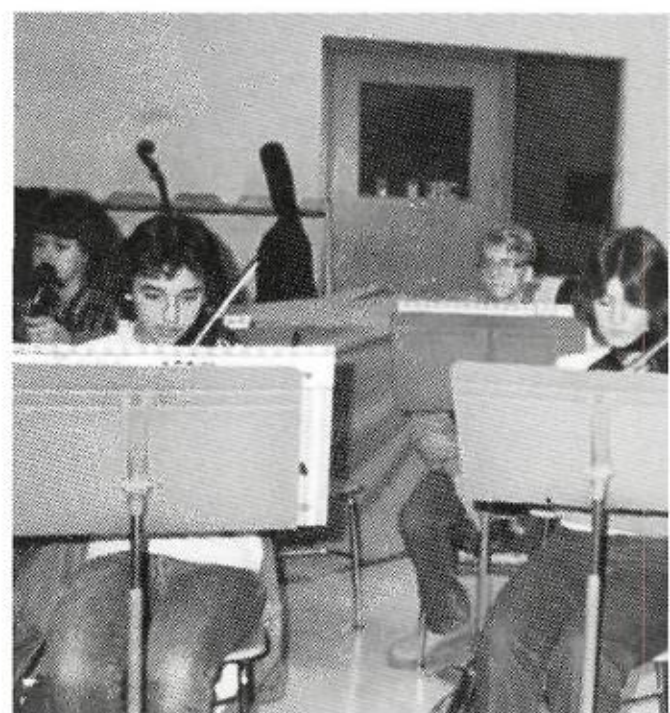

"Valdene Sands is a remarkable lady. One who will always remain 'eternally young', in heart and soul." — Virginia Dipboye.

"Mrs. Valdene Sands has been making good things happen for the East Central faculty and student body for fourteen years." — George Dorsch.

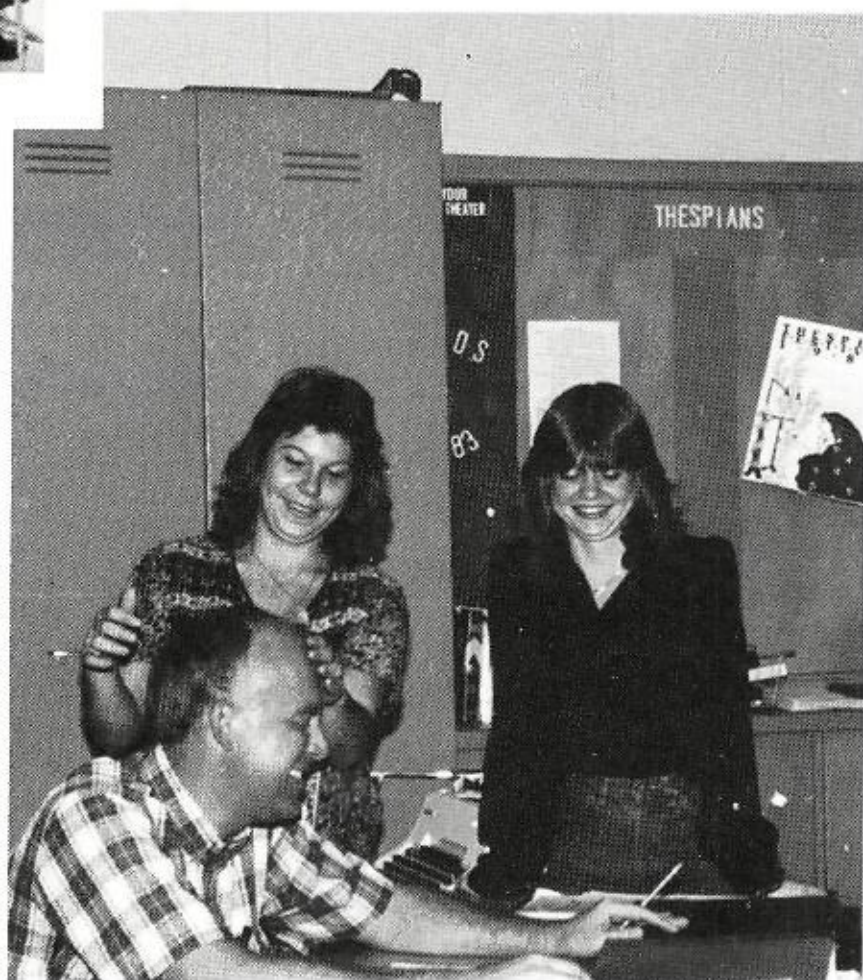

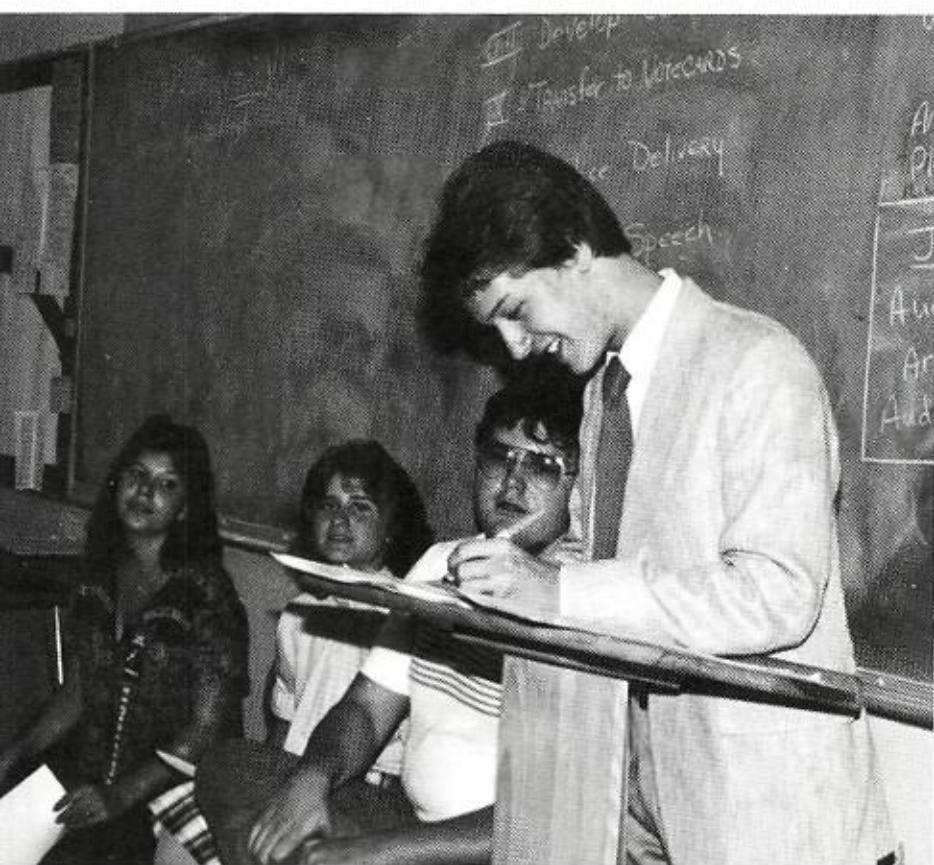

Performing Arts:

Some 1984 East Central students were well "watched" by many people this year, as they took their talents to higher limits. They invited eyes to "watch" them express music and dramatics at its best. The "nights they stayed" dedicating their time and effort showed throughout each performance. As each presentation led to audience enchantment, the actors, artists and instrumentalists became established among the well "watched". Our Performing Arts students gained confidence in themselves, as well as achieving a better understanding of course skills in Drama, Chorus, Band, Technical Theatre, Orchestra and Jazz Ensemble. From the beginning of the year and through the middle, people "watched" them express their feelings about the Arts in every play, and show their ideas clearly until the last song of the year. E. C. was glad they stayed.

Technical Theatre

Technical Theatre is the class that is responsible for the scenery of the school plays and the Ensemble Company presentations. They began their work early in the morning painting different types of scenery, gluing together fragments, which later became houses and sometimes forests. Mr. Randall Blair was the instructor of Technical Theatre and is also the director of all the plays we "watched." We appreciated the problems the class conquered to bring us the settings which enhanced each show.

Jr./Sr. Class Play

The Senior and Junior class play, "Teach Me How To Cry" was presented on December 1 and 3, 1983. The play, which is set in the spring, was about a young girl misfit, who meets a boy who is also a misfit. Together they become one, they find happiness, meaning in life, and secret love, until the boy has to move away. The cast included Danielle Balletto, Emily Portteus, Melinda Upton, Traci Sumner, Cherie Meredith, Kevin Thompson, Lisa Chirkis, Carol Owen, Ron Schooler, Steve James, Lisa VanWassenhove, Bob Driscoll, and Todd Cutter.

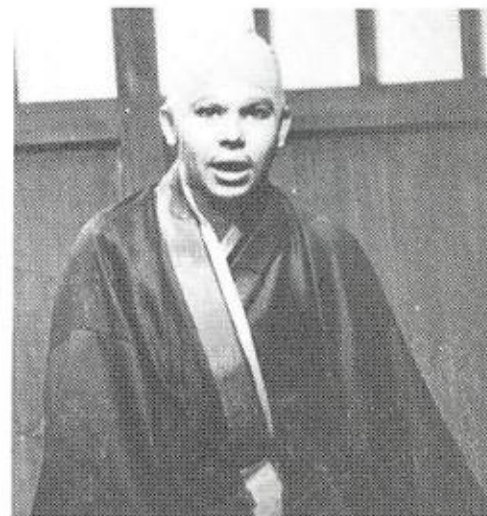

The Warrior's Husband

In the country of the Amazons, women were the rulers and leaders while men were their servants. The delightful comedy, "The Warrior's Husband," relives the Greek myth, that of Hercules and one of his nine labors capturing the Girdle of Hippolyta, the Amazon Queen. The freshman/sophomore play included 14 freshmen and seven sophomores. Hillary Hamilton, Travis Brooks, Angie Philbeck and Eric Celeste played the exciting lead parts. The cast as well as the stage crew gave us something special to "watch".

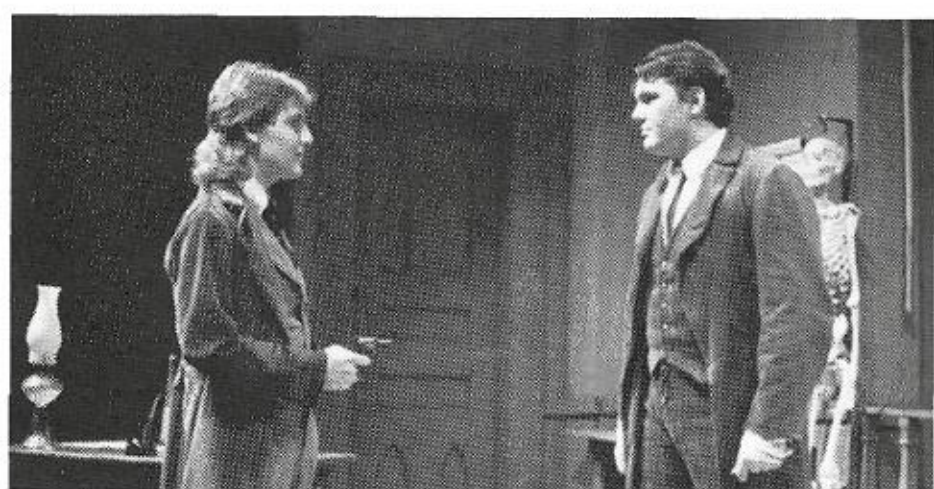

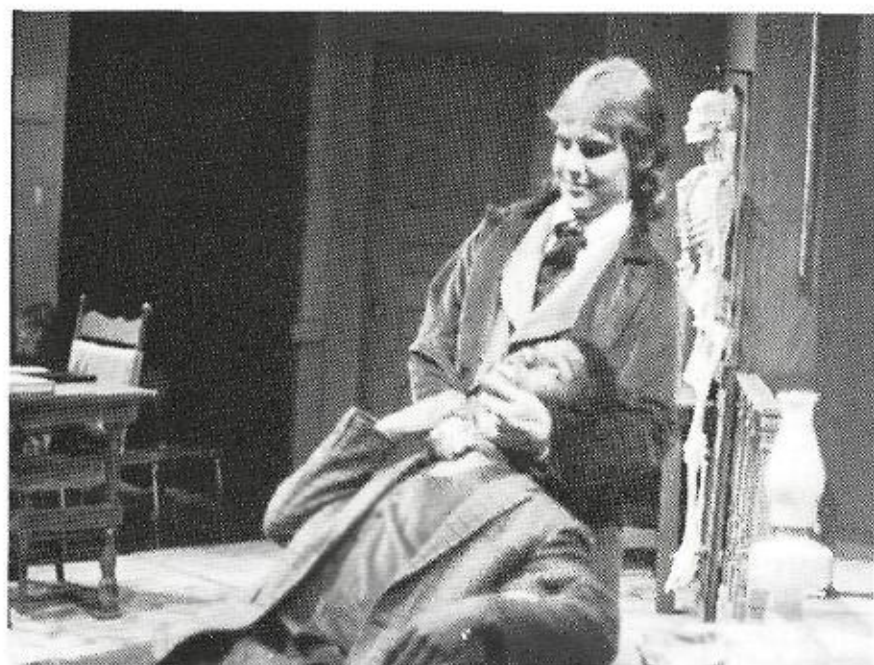

Rashomon

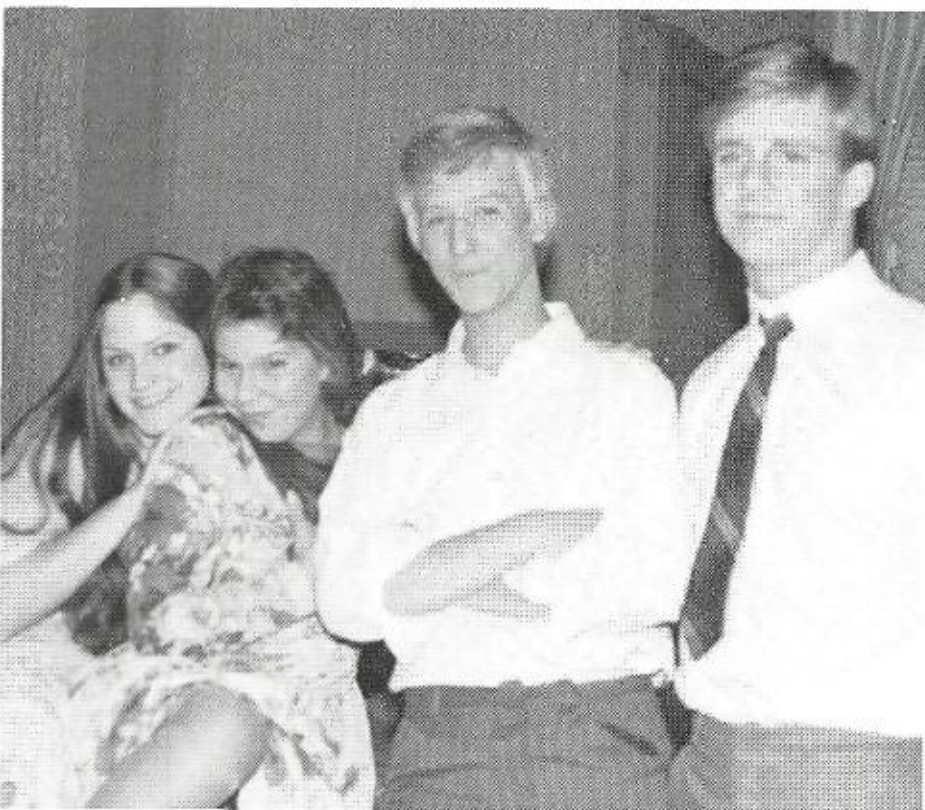

Rashomon was a play regarding a crime and truth. With three settings at one time, a police court, a forest and the Rashomon Gate, the stage had all around action. The cast included six Thespians, Kyle Kisselburg, woodcutter; Robert Foster, debuty; Anita Daniels, wife; Lisa VanWassenhove, mother; and Danielle Balleto as the medium. The show also included, Barry McCoy, priest; Jeff Morison, wigmaker; Robert White, samuri; Chrissie Felzky, wife and Dana Fleming as the medium on the second nights performance.

Ensemble Company

The Ensemble Company presented many plays this year. The first being "Bloody Jack", written by Tim Kelly, which ran on October 19 and 20. Daniel Ford, Robert Foster, Anita Daniels, Barry McCoy, Gerald Epperson, Jeff Morrison, Sunna Chapin, Lisa Vanwassenhove, and Dana Fleming starred in this delightful mystery. On October 26 and 28, Danielle Balletto, Kyle Kisselburg, Chrissie Felzke and Bob White presented the mysterious and confusing play, "Veronica's Room" written by Ira Levin.

Concert Chorus

The "1984" Concert Chorus was well "watched", from Fall until Spring. The Fall Celebration with the Glee Club was the starting point of the year. Expressing the beauty of Christmas at area churches, the Williams Center Hotel and the Williams Center Forum, with the Glee Club, were special performances in which the chorus loved to be viewed. In the school auditorium on January 20, the Pop Assembly was the first presentation in which the whole school "watched". Their new choreography, the bright dresses, the coal black tuxedos and an added guitar, played by Don Holt on "Eye of the Tiger", was what remained in the minds of those who "watched."

The chorus then traveled to nearby junior highs to perform contemporary music along with an added surprise. "The Broke Brothers," a comedy band including Bob White on vocals and Don Holt on guitar played a version of "Wild Thing" and a blues tune they wrote called "Busted." Come May, the chorus will be "watched" during their Spring Concert which will be performed in the evening. During the "1984" school year the chorus sold m&m's, calendars and cookie pies to help them pay their way to Six-Flags on May sixth.

Marching Band

They also won first place in the Fair Parade Competition and second place in the Class A March-A-Rama. In May the band traveled to Enid for the Tri-State Music Festival. The drum majors were Lisa Hamilton and Kevin Thompson. Flag captains were Nikki Powell and Tina Bolton. The Pep Band also played for our pep assemblies.

"Oh Can't You See . . . "

If "Big Brother" was watching in 1984, he saw the cardinals in open flight, with wings outspread and heads held high. In an astonishing number and variety of honorary, academic, performing, organizational, and sports oriented activities, the students of East Central invited any to "watch" . . .

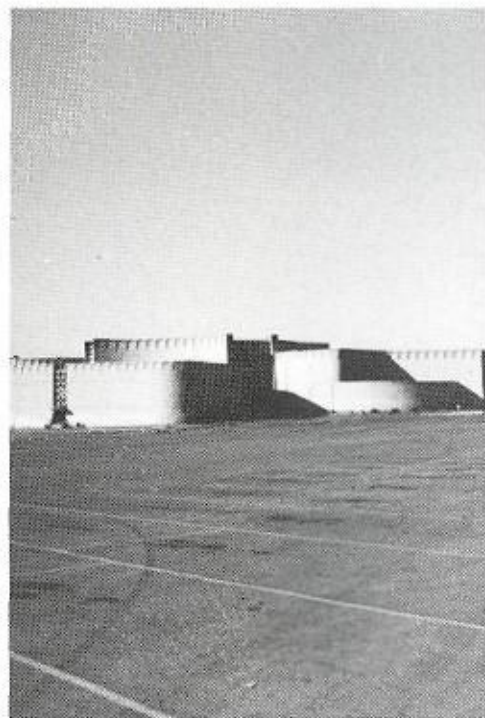

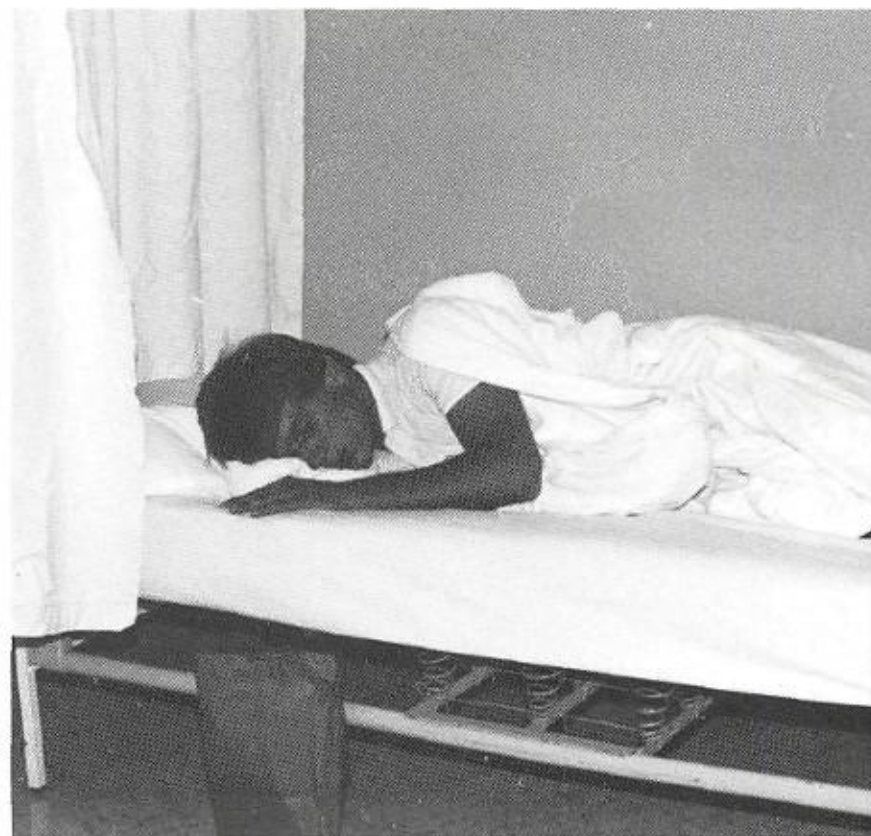

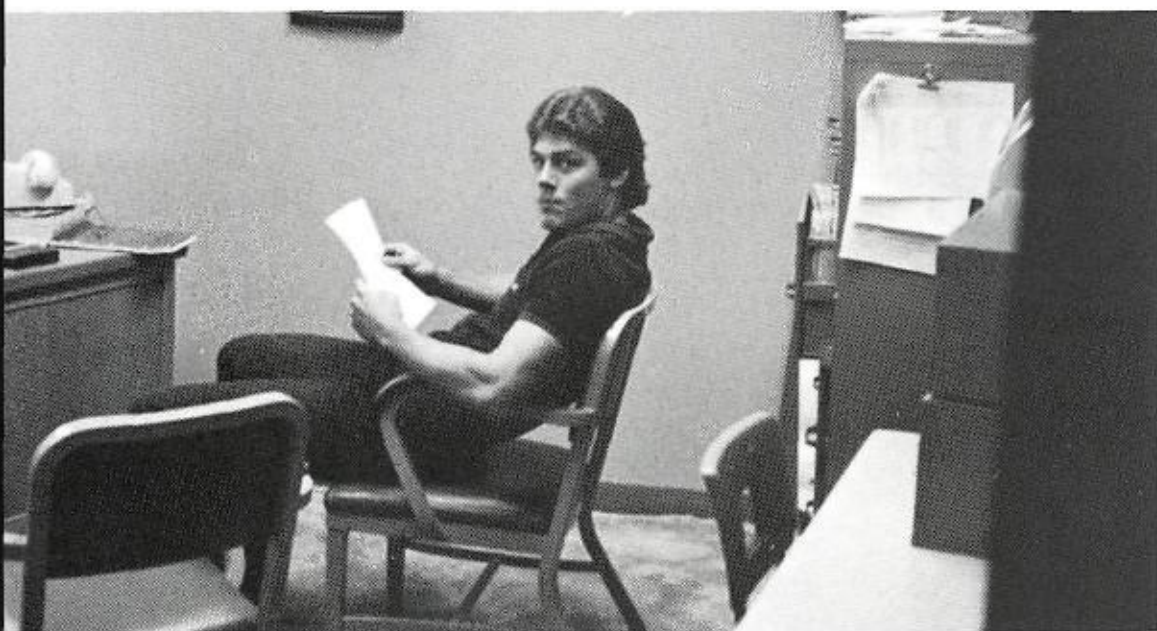

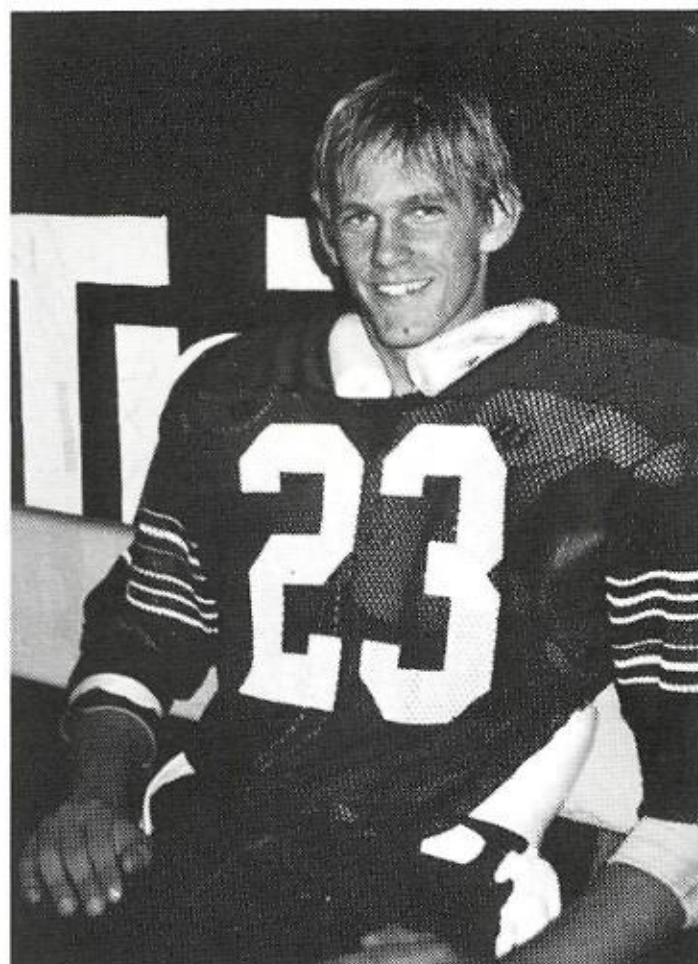

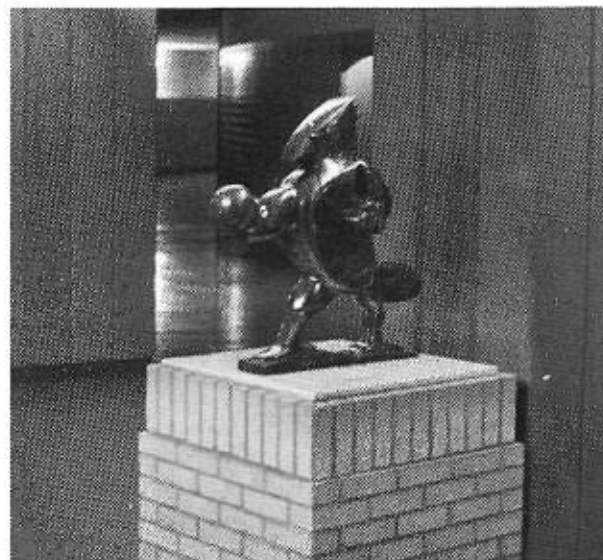

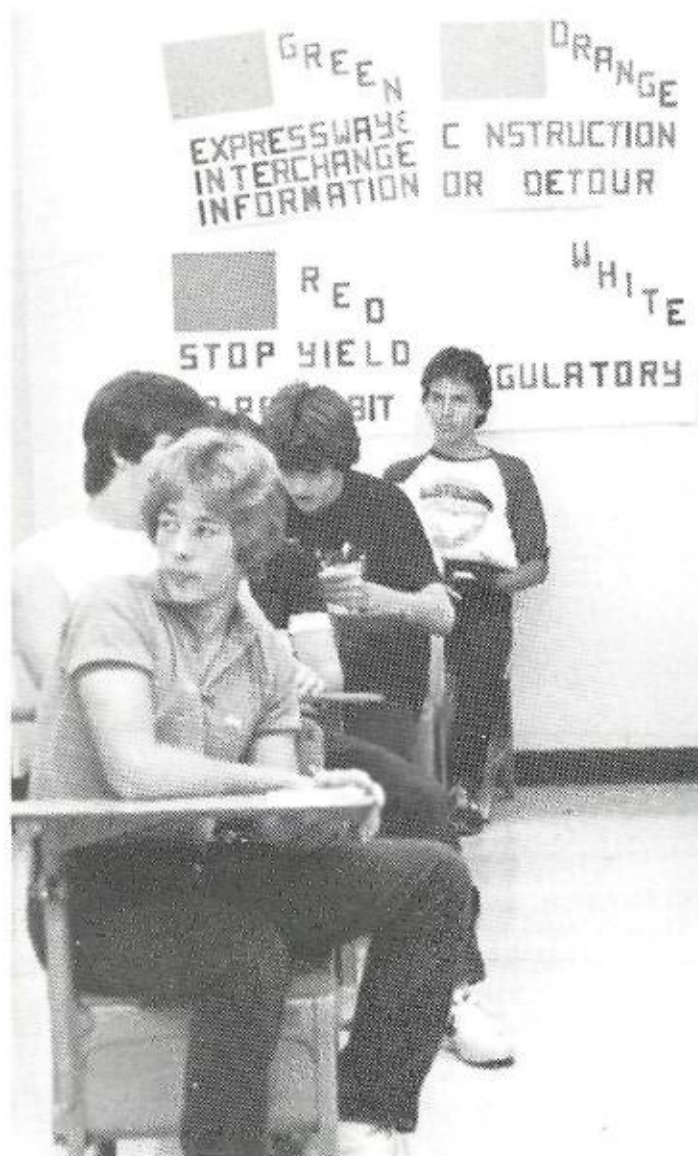

them "stake their claims", "take their breaths", "make their moves", take their steps", "break their bonds", "belong", "stay their nights", ...

“We’ve been watching you . . . ”

“say their words,” and “make their plays.” “Oh Can’t You See” what a menagerie of wonderful and varied Cardinals there are. Our differences are what makes it possible for us to retain our precious freedoms. These differences prevent anyone from totally controlling our society to the . . .

point of losing liberty. Turn your video spies and cameras on Big Brother; we were proud to be "watched" here at East Central in 1984. Our freedom flights were "captured" here only.

Mother (Mama)

Doesn't the above title say it all. You have been a great one and always will be. I thank you all the time, caring, spoiling, worrying, advice, loving favors, time and most of all brain. Love. Someday I need get ahold of Doug Rawlinson and give him a thank you, because little did I know the great favor that he did me when he dragged me into your office, feet dangling off the ground and told you to take care of me. Well you must have taken him serious. Because of your big heart you're loved by all your kids and especially me!!

Love Daniel Ford
